(a) The returns were not received from the District Office, Chitaldrug, Sub-Division Office, Davangere, and the taluks of Channagiri and Sorab.

N. B.—(1) The Amildar of Srinivaspur reports that a sum of Rs. 260 which ought to have been brought under "Advances for restoration to minor tanks" was, by mistake, carried against "Advances for maintenance of restored tanks" in the previous returns. This has been corrected in the present statement.

(2) Some of the taluks having failed to furnish the required information, the details given above are incomplete.

(3) he figures under "Loans to Artizans" in the Bangalore District are in excess of the allotment sanctioned for the purpose, as advances are made also out of the realizations from the sale of cloths.

* Relief to weavers. † These include Rs. 208 and Rs. 206, which were hitherto being incorrectly shown under "advances for maintenance of restored tanks" by the Amildar of Chikballapur Taluk.
‡ These include Rs. 300 and Rs. 150 which were omitted in the previous returns from the Kunigal Taluk.
$ The Amildar of Mulbagal has revised his previous figures as per annual accounts. Hence the difference in some of the figurs for the district.

(a) The returns were not received from the following offices:—District Office, Chitaldrug, Sub-Division Office, Davangere, Taluks of Krishnarajpete, Nagamangala, Hassan, Arsikere, Channagiri, Sorab, Koppa, Holalkere and Hosdurga, and the Sub-Taluk of Koratagere.

N. B.—(1) Some of the taluks having failed to furnish the required information, the details given above are incomplete.

(2) The figures under "Loans to Artizans" in the Bangalore District are in excess of the allotment sanctioned for the purpose, as advances are made also out of the realizations from the sale of cloths.

PROSPECTUS OF THE DASARA EXHIBITION OF 1909.

Introductory.—With the sanction of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, the Committee issue the following prospectus in connection with the Exhibition of 1909.

2. Opening of the Exhibition.—This year the Exhibition will commence on Monday 18th October 1909 and close on Sunday 31st. The Cattle Show will begin on Monday 25th October and close on Thursday 28th. It may be observed that the show generally offers a good opportunity for people desirous of purchasing good specimens of Mysore cattle.

3. Object of the Exhibition.—The primary aim of the Committee is to impart to the Exhibition an educative character and to bring together articles, machinery and processes, the use of which it is desirable to bring to the notice of the raiyat, the artizan and the manufacturer by actual demonstration. But as the Exhibition of a single specimen may not afford full information, and may not be sufficiently attractive to the visiting public, articles intended for sale will also be admitted.

Articles on sale versus samples.—Articles on a larger scale sent merely for sale will have to be kept in separate stalls and under the charge of the exhibitors or their agents. There is no objection to the sale of actual exhibits, but they will not be allowed to be removed from the Exhibition grounds till the termination of the show. Articles admitted for purposes of sale alone may be removed after purchase. No article will be allowed to leave the Exhibition grounds without a gate pass.

4. Plan of the buildings.—A plan of the Exhibition grounds showing buildings and the extent of covered and open space available is appended to this prospectus. Those who desire to have special facilities for the sale of articles or demonstration of processes, are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee.

5. Horticultural Show.—The Horticultural Show comprising "class" and "group," etc., mentioned in the first section of the prospectus, will be held on the 25th October 1909, and kept open till the close of the following day.

6. Lectures and demonstrations.—Lectures will be delivered by competent persons in English and Kanarese on subjects connected with Industry, Agriculture, Health and Sanitation, the value of agricultural implements and machines, their cost, construction and repairs. Arrangements will also be made for holding a competition on the Exhibition grounds in Ploughing, Weaving and processes connected therewith. The exact time and the place of the lectures and demonstration will be announced later on by handbills and notices.

7. Donations.—The Committee would thankfully accept donations for awarding prizes or medals from individuals or associations desiring to give an impetus to any special branch of Agriculture or Industry.

8. Classification of exhibits.—The classification of exhibits will be according to the price list subjoined to the prospectus and entries in several sections should be made in the application forms prescribed.

9. Open to all India.—The Committee invite exhibits from all the districts in the State as well as from outside. They also appeal to the various agricultural departments and associations in other parts of India, Burma and Ceylon to help them with exhibits and suggestions.

10. Judges.—Leading raiyats and non-official gentlemen will be invited to assist the Committee in judging the exhibits.

11. Admission fees for visitors.—An admission fee of annas two per head will be levied each time a person enters the Exhibition buildings. Season tickets will be issued at Re. 1 per head. These are not transferable, but books of eight single tickets may be had also at Re. 1 per book. If possible, return railway season tickets between Bangalore and Mysore at a reduced rate which will admit to the Exhibition for the whole season, will be arranged for.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. Noxious articles.—Explosives or any substance noxious or dangerous will not be admitted by the Committee.

2. Particulars re exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send to the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee, particulars of exhibits they intend to forward and the amount of space which their exhibits may take up in the necessary entry form appended to this prospectus. 3. Applications from exhibitors.—Applications should reach the Secretary not later than 15th September 1909. Each application should contain a Post Card on which the address and Post town of the exhibitor are legibly written.

4. Lists from taluks.—Deputy Commissioners of Districts with the District Committee, Sub-Divisional Officers and Amildars of Taluks are requested to convene as early as possible, a meeting of the leading artizans, raiyats and merchants residing within their respective charges, to explain to them fully the object and scope of the Exhibition, to carefully acquaint them with the Rules and Regulations drawing particular attention to such paras as 2, 3, 10, etc., to distribute to them forms of applications, to have them filled up by intending exhibitors compile them, and to forward them to the Secretary.

5. Articles not enumerated.—The classified list of prizes will show the nature of articles which can compete at the Exhibition. Articles not specially enumerated in the prize list may, however, be admitted by the Committee at their discretion.

6. No fees to be charged for exhibits.—No fees will be charged for the admission or registration of exhibits or for the space allowed for them.

7. Acceptance of exhibits.—The Committee reserve to themselves absolute discretion as regards the acceptance or rejection of exhibits and the allotment of space covered or uncovered.

4. The manure used.
5. Whether any irrigation is required.
6. The time required for the maturing of the crop.
7. The average yield per acre.
8. Any other interesting details regarding cultivation should be given.

11. Exhibits which have already won prizes.—Exhibits which have won prizes or medals in the Mysore Exhibitions of 1906, 1907 and 1908 shall be precluded from competing for prizes, though there is no objection to their being accepted for purposes of show or sale.

12. Date of delivery of exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send the exhibits so as to reach Mysore on the 25th September 1909, from which date the Committee will arrange to take charge of exhibits. BUT NO EXHIBITS WILL BE RECEIVED AFTER THE 5TH OCTOBER 1909.

13. Belated exhibits.—Articles that are not delivered at the Exhibition Hall in the time fixed may be admitted at the discretion of the Committee subsequent to the dates mentioned in para 12, but shall not be entitled to compete for prizes.

14. Perishable articles.—Vegetables, fruits, and other perishable articles may, however, be delivered at the Exhibition Hall till 7 P.M., on the 24th October 1909.

15. Admission of exhibits.—No exhibits will be admitted without a pass signed by the Secretary or members of the Committee on duty at the Exhibition grounds.

16. Responsibility of exhibitors.—Exhibitors will have to pay every expense of transit, delivery, fixing and removing their exhibits and they must either personally or by their agents or servants superintend their reception and removal, in default of which, the Committee reserve to themselves the right of doing whatever may be considered necessary at the expense of the exhibitor.

17. Committee accept no responsibility.—No responsibility will be accepted by the Committee as to any damage or loss howsoever occurring.

18. Special facilities.—Exhibitors are requested to mention in their applications whether they wish to illustrate practically any processes of manufacture or the working of any implement or machinery and, if so, to state briefly the nature of the demonstration and any special facilities they require.

19. Special arrangement to be made at the exhibitors' expense.—If the exhibitors require any special arrangements to be made (or have to mount their machinery) they must carry them out at their own expense, but the Committee will be glad to give such aid as may be possible in the shape of getting skilled or unskilled manual labour at the exhibitors' expense. The expenses of demonstrating machinery and implements should be borne by the exhibitor except where special arrangements have been made with the Committee.

20. Valuable exhibits.—All valuable exhibits must be forwarded under the charge of an attendant.

21. Exhibits unaccompanied by men in charge.—Exhibitors who are unable to attend personally or send their agents in charge of exhibits may make special arrangements with the Committee for the exhibition of their goods on payment in advance in full of the estimated expense.

22. Weighing of exhibits.—The Committee entrust the work of receiving the exhibits to responsible officials. But as the goods are landed near the Exhibition grounds by special arrangements, it is not possible to weigh every consignment before taking delivery of it. So exhibitors are requested to take every possible precaution in packing their exhibits and to send to the Committee in time an accurate list of exhibits sent by them. Exhibitors who wish that their consignments should be weighed at the Railway Station before delivery, should intimate their wish to the Secretary in time and remit in advance a special fee of Re. 1 on each consignment to be thus weighed.

23. Acknowledgment of exhibits.—Receipt of exhibits will be acknowledged by return of the duplicate list mentioned in para 10 to the exhibitor duly signed by the Secretary. No other kind of receipt will be sent. Any differences between the list and the articles actually received will be noted in the duplicate list.

24. Free pass to exhibitors.—In cases in which the owners themselves are in charge of exhibits, the necessary free pass will be given.

25. Free admission to bonâ fide raiyats and artizans.—Raiyats and artizans unable to pay fees, belonging to the Mysore State or from outside, who produce certificates of identification signed by their respective Taluk Officers in Form B appended to this prospectus, will be admitted free.

26. Space for exhibits on sale.—Accommodation will be found within the Exhibition grounds, as far as possible, for articles intended for sale. But those who wish to send articles on a large scale would do well to have temporary booths put up at their own cost in the Exhibition grounds by previous arrangements with the Committee.

27. Articles on sale.—Articles on sale or those sold should in every case have cards attached to them notifying the same.

28. Removal of exhibits.—All exhibits must be removed within a week after the close of the Exhibition. Exhibits remaining after that time will be disposed of as the Committee deem fit. Perishable articles will be allowed to be removed at the option of the owner or purchasers within 24 hours after the opening of the Exhibition.

29. Exhibits on loan.—Works of art and articles of special merit including those of antiquarian interest will be thankfully received. Gentlemen willing to lend them are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary or any of the members of the Committee who will inform them of the acceptance of the offer and will make necessary arrangements in connection with the exhibition of articles.

30. Exhibits belonging to departments of Government.—Articles or cattle exhibited by any department of Government will not be eligible for money prizes or medals, but may be awarded certificates of merit. This rule does not preclude Government servants or pupils of Industrial Schools from competing for prizes if the exhibits are manufactured by themselves.

31. Admission of live-stock.—All cattle and sheep brought for this show will be located in a convenient place before the first selection and only such of the animals as are selected will be permitted to be picketed in the sheds provided at the show-yard according to breed, age and size, etc.

38. Number of Judges.—The Judges in each class or group will not be less than three, but no prizes will be awarded unless in the opinion of the Judges the exhibits merit the reward. Judges cannot compete for prizes in classes or sections in which they are Judges.

39. Photograph of articles exhibited.—No article exhibited may be copied, photographed, drawn or reproduced in any manner without the special permission of the exhibitor and the Committee. General photographs of the stalls may, however, be taken with the permission of the Committee.

PROSPECTUS OF THE DASARA EXHIBITION OF 1909.

Introductory.—With the sanction of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, the Committee issue the following prospectus in connection with the Exhibition of 1909.

2. Opening of the Exhibition.—This year the Exhibition will commence on Monday 18th October 1909 and close on Sunday 31st. The Cattle Show will begin on Monday 25th October and close on Thursday 28th. It may be observed that the show generally offers a good opportunity for people desirous of purchasing good specimens of Mysore cattle.

3. Object of the Exhibition.—The primary aim of the Committee is to impart to the Exhibition an educative character and to bring together articles, machinery and processes, the use of which it is desirable to bring to the notice of the raiyat, the artizan and the manufacturer by actual demonstration. But as the Exhibition of a single specimen may not afford full information, and may not be sufficiently attractive to the visiting public, articles intended for sale will also be admitted.

Articles on sale versus samples.—Articles on a larger scale sent merely for sale will have to be kept in separate stalls and under the charge of the exhibitors or their agents. There is no objection to the sale of actual exhibits, but they will not be allowed to be removed from the Exhibition grounds till the termination of the show. Articles admitted for purposes of sale alone may be removed after purchase. No article will be allowed to leave the Exhibition grounds without a gate pass.

4. Plan of the buildings.—A plan of the Exhibition grounds showing buildings and the extent of covered and open space available is appended to this prospectus. Those who desire to have special facilities for the sale of articles or demonstration of processes, are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee.

5. Horticultural Show.—The Horticultural Show comprising "class" and "group," etc., mentioned in the first section of the prospectus, will be held on the 25th October 1909, and kept open till the close of the following day.

6. Lectures and demonstrations.—Lectures will be delivered by competent persons in English and Kanarese on subjects connected with Industry, Agriculture, Health and Sanitation, the value of agricultural implements and machines, their cost, construction and repairs. Arrangements will also be made for holding a competition on the Exhibition grounds in Ploughing, Weaving and processes connected therewith. The exact time and the place of the lectures and demonstration will be announced later on by handbills and notices.

7. Donations.—The Committee would thankfully accept donations for awarding prizes or medals from individuals or associations desiring to give an impetus to any special branch of Agriculture or Industry.

8. Classification of exhibits.—The classification of exhibits will be according to the price list subjoined to the prospectus and entries in several sections should be made in the application forms prescribed.

9. Open to all India.—The Committee invite exhibits from all the districts in the State as well as from outside. They also appeal to the various agricultural departments and associations in other parts of India, Burma and Ceylon to help them with exhibits and suggestions.

10. Judges.—Leading raiyats and non-official gentlemen will be invited to assist the Committee in judging the exhibits.

11. Admission fees for visitors.—An admission fee of annas two per head will be levied each time a person enters the Exhibition buildings. Season tickets will be issued at Re. 1 per head. These are not transferable, but books of eight single tickets may be had also at Re. 1 per book. If possible, return railway season tickets between Bangalore and Mysore at a reduced rate which will admit to the Exhibition for the whole season, will be arranged for.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. Noxious articles.—Explosives or any substance noxious or dangerous will not be admitted by the Committee.

It may be observed that the show generally offers a good opportunity for people desirous of purchasing good specimens of Mysore cattle.

3. Object of the Exhibition.—The primary aim of the Committee is to impart to the Exhibition an educative character and to bring together articles, machinery and processes, the use of which it is desirable to bring to the notice of the raiyat, the artizan and the manufacturer by actual demonstration. But as the Exhibition of a single specimen may not afford full information, and may not be sufficiently attractive to the visiting public, articles intended for sale will also be admitted.

Articles on sale versus samples.—Articles on a larger scale sent merely for sale will have to be kept in separate stalls and under the charge of the exhibitors or their agents. There is no objection to the sale of actual exhibits, but they will not be allowed to be removed from the Exhibition grounds till the termination of the show. Articles admitted for purposes of sale alone may be removed after purchase. No article will be allowed to leave the Exhibition grounds without a gate pass.

4. Plan of the buildings.—A plan of the Exhibition grounds showing buildings and the extent of covered and open space available is appended to this prospectus. Those who desire to have special facilities for the sale of articles or demonstration of processes, are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee.

5. Horticultural Show.—The Horticultural Show comprising "class" and "group," etc., mentioned in the first section of the prospectus, will be held on the 25th October 1909, and kept open till the close of the following day.

6. Lectures and demonstrations.—Lectures will be delivered by competent persons in English and Kanarese on subjects connected with Industry, Agriculture, Health and Sanitation, the value of agricultural implements and machines, their cost, construction and repairs. Arrangements will also be made for holding a competition on the Exhibition grounds in Ploughing, Weaving and processes connected therewith. The exact time and the place of the lectures and demonstration will be announced later on by handbills and notices.

7. Donations.—The Committee would thankfully accept donations for awarding prizes or medals from individuals or associations desiring to give an impetus to any special branch of Agriculture or Industry.

8. Classification of exhibits.—The classification of exhibits will be according to the price list subjoined to the prospectus and entries in several sections should be made in the application forms prescribed.

9. Open to all India.—The Committee invite exhibits from all the districts in the State as well as from outside. They also appeal to the various agricultural departments and associations in other parts of India, Burma and Ceylon to help them with exhibits and suggestions.

10. Judges.—Leading raiyats and non-official gentlemen will be invited to assist the Committee in judging the exhibits.

11. Admission fees for visitors.—An admission fee of annas two per head will be levied each time a person enters the Exhibition buildings. Season tickets will be issued at Re. 1 per head. These are not transferable, but books of eight single tickets may be had also at Re. 1 per book. If possible, return railway season tickets between Bangalore and Mysore at a reduced rate which will admit to the Exhibition for the whole season, will be arranged for.

12. Date of delivery of exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send the exhibits so as to reach Mysore on the 25th September 1909, from which date the Committee will arrange to take charge of exhibits. BUT NO EXHIBITS WILL BE RECEIVED AFTER THE 5TH OCTOBER 1909.

The expenses of demonstrating machinery and implements should be borne by the exhibitor except where special arrangements have been made with the Committee.

20. Valuable exhibits.—All valuable exhibits must be forwarded under the charge of an attendant.

21. Exhibits unaccompanied by men in charge.—Exhibitors who are unable to attend personally or send their agents in charge of exhibits may make special arrangements with the Committee for the exhibition of their goods on payment in advance in full of the estimated expense.

22. Weighing of exhibits.—The Committee entrust the work of receiving the exhibits to responsible officials. But as the goods are landed near the Exhibition grounds by special arrangements, it is not possible to weigh every consignment before taking delivery of it. So exhibitors are requested to take every possible precaution in packing their exhibits and to send to the Committee in time an accurate list of exhibits sent by them. Exhibitors who wish that their consignments should be weighed at the Railway Station before delivery, should intimate their wish to the Secretary in time and remit in advance a special fee of Re. 1 on each consignment to be thus weighed.

† These wrongly included in the previous statement Rs. 500 and Rs. 60 sanctioned and disbursed in the Koratagere Sub-Taluk for "Fodder," which have now been transferred to the appropriate column in the present statement. Hence the difference.

(a) The returns were not received from the District Office, Chitaldrug; Sub-Division Office, Davangere; Taluks of Mysore, Hunsur, Krishnarajpete, Shimoga, Channagiri and Challakere and the Sub-Taluk of Closepet.

N. B.—(1) Some of the taluks having failed to furnish the required information, the details given above are incomplete.

(2) The figures under "Loans to Artizans" in the Bangalore District are in excess of the allotment sanctioned for the purpose, as advances are made also out of the realizations from the sale of cloths.

PROSPECTUS.

THE INDUSTRIAL AND AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION OF THE PUNJAB, NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE & KASHMIR, 1909.

The Indian Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition will be held this year at Lahore in the month of November.

The Indian Industrial Exhibitions held since 1901 have served greatly to popularise and encourage the Indian arts and industries, and their usefulness has been recognised by all sections of the Press and the public.

The first of these Exhibitions was organised and held at Calcutta in December 1901, and similar Exhibitions have since then been held at Ahmedabad in 1902, at Madras in 1903, at Bombay in 1904, at Benares in 1905, at Calcutta in 1906, and at Nagpur in 1907-08.

The management and organisation of the Exhibition have, since its inception, been entrusted to Committees fully representative of all sections of the public. The same practice has been followed in the Punjab, and a Committee which is fully representative of all classes, officials as well as non-officials, Europeans, Hindus, Sikhs and Muhammadans has been appointed. An Executive Committee has also been formed to carry out, under the general supervision of the General Committee, the various arrangements connected with the Exhibition. Both these Committees have power to add to their number. The Executive Committee has appointed Sub-Committees to look after the several branches into which the work connected with the Exhibition has been divided.

The Government of the Punjab, fully recognising the industrial and educational value of such Exhibitions, has very kindly agreed not only to give special facilities for the exhibition of all such articles by its Agricultural, Art, Forest, Sanitary and other Departments as may prove useful or instructive to the public, but also to help in several other ways the organisation of the Exhibition. His Honour Sir Louis Dane, whose keen solicitude to promote the industrial and agricultural development of the country is well-known, and who as Resident in Kashmir substantially furthered the development of the material resources of that State, has been pleased to become a patron of the Exhibition. The Hon'ble Sir George Ross-Keppel has also been pleased to become a patron and has extended the help and co-operation of his Administration to the scheme.

The last Exhibition held in the Punjab was in 1893. It was, however, confined to the products of industrial arts and manufactures belonging to the Punjab, and did not include agriculture and agricultural machinery. Of the Exhibition now to be held the agricultural section is intended to form one of the most prominent branches. The agricultural possibilities of this Province are immense, and during the past five years the Government Department of Agriculture has done a good deal to improve agriculture on scientific lines, by making available a considerable amount of instructive and useful information regarding seeds, the diseases of crops, various kinds of manures, and the use of modern implements and machinery for economising labour and increasing production. In the development of commerce and industry, Punjab has advanced with rapid strides during the past 18 years. The Capital invested in industrial, banking and other commercial concerns that have come into existence in the Punjab during this period amounts to several crores of rupees.

Although the scope of the Exhibition is confined largely to articles of indigenous growth and manufacture, arrangements are being made for the Exhibition of machinery and appliances of foreign manufacture which are likely to help and develop Indian Industries.

Facilities will be afforded to the exhibitors to keep stocks of their exhibits for ready sale.

Copies of the Rules and Regulations relating to the Exhibition and of a synopsis of classification of exhibits are attached.

The Committee feel that an undertaking of this nature can only succeed with the active co-operation of all sections of the people, and they hope that all will join hands to make the Exhibition a success and in every way worthy of the Punjab and its Capital. The Committee confidently appeal to the Princes, noblemen and gentlemen of the Province, to the District and Tahsil authorities, to the District and Municipal Boards and to public associations of all kinds, Anjumans, Sabhas and Samajes, and all who have the interests of the country at heart and are willing to assist in the development of its material resources, for assistance and co-operation in bringing their labours to a happy and successful issue.

Assistance can be rendered to the objects of the Exhibition, among others, in the following ways: first, by actually furnishing articles for exhibition either on loan or for sale; second, by subscriptions towards the funds of the Exhibition for specific purposes or to meet general expenses; third, by giving inducement and encouragement to skilful craftsmen on appropriate conditions in order to enable them to prepare objects for exhibition or by giving prizes; fourth, by display of general interest in the objects of the Exhibition by spreading information by encouraging clever but obscure or diffident workmen, and generally by co-operating in every possible way with the efforts made by the General and the Executive Committees. The Committee cannot imagine a single patriotic Indian who takes an intelligent interest in the welfare of the country who cannot further the objects of the Exhibition in some way or other.

All communications should be addressed to the General Secretary, Industrial and Agriculture Exhibition of the Punjab, N.-W. F. Province and Kashmir, Bharat Buildings, Lahore.

APPROPRIATION REPORT

ON

THE ACCOUNTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

FOR

1907-1908.

General Review.

(NOTE.—Throughout this report the figures given are, unless otherwise indicated, in thousands of Rupees omitting 000.)

Comparison of budget figures with actuals for 1907-08.

The Budget for the year 1907-08 provided for a small surplus of 40 exclusive of the net revenue from the Cauvery Power Scheme, but in the actual result it was better by 13,80. Including the Cauvery Power Reserve the actual total surplus was 26,50 against the estimate of 10,74 as shown below. In estimating the Railway Receipts and Expenditure of the year, the gross receipts were shown on the Revenue side and the Working Expenses on the Expenditure side; but in the course of the year it was proposed to revert to the old system of showing only the net receipts as being the more correct method of representing the true earnings of the Railways. In the accounts for the year the Working Expenses were accordingly eliminated. In order, however, to have a proper comparison of the estimate and account figures it has been found necessary to deduct such expenses from both sides of the estimate.

Revenue Heads.

2. The year on the whole was a favorable one and its effects are written large over all our revenue returns and more especially in the all-important item of Land Revenue.

Apart from the improvement in the Revenues from the Cauvery Power Scheme and Railways, there were large increases in the receipts under other heads also, notably under Forest and Excise and they were due chiefly to the favorable rates secured for sandalwood and for the leases for the Minor Forest Produce and to the enhancement of the tax on toddy trees and the increased revenue from arrack. The realisations under Interest were better owing to the fresh investments made in Government paper at the commencement of the year and the recovery of arrear interest on 50 lakhs of such paper. Under Departmental receipts the fee-income from schools was greater (fees in primary classes were abolished only from 1908-09) and some of the arrears of the contribution due from the District and Municipal Funds towards Local Fund Dispensaries were adjusted during the year. The income from the Cauvery Power Scheme and from the Railways exceeded the Budget anticipations and this was due to the larger consumption of electric power by the Gold Mines and less remissions for stoppages and to the large improvement in the traffic receipts of the Mysore-Harihar line.

Expenditure.

3. On the expenditure side the large savings under some of the heads were counterbalanced by the excesses under others, the net result of which was a saving of 42. Of the decreases that under Forest was chiefly on account of difficulties experienced in procuring the required labour and the means of transporting timber. The savings under Refunds and Drawbacks, Interest and Miscellaneous charges were comparatively small. The charges under Salaries and Expenses of Civil Departments were slightly less and were due chiefly to savings in Establishment and in the grants for Supplies and Services of the several Departments; and this saving would have been considerably more but for the payment of 5 lakhs of the building grant to the Indian Institute of Science against the estimate of only 2 lakhs. On the other hand the expenses of the Civil Departments would have exceeded the estimate by about 1,50 had not expenditure to the extent of 1,87 been transferred from this group to the new head opened, viz., Charges against Mining Revenue. The short expenditure under Military was caused by savings chiefly under Salaries and Establishment, Supplies and Services, and a slight overestimate of Military Pension Charges.

As regards the increases, the causes of the apparently large excess under Charges against Revenue and the Cauvery Power Scheme have been already explained. Those under Land Revenue and Excise were caused by the payment of arrears of potgi allowances and arrears of remuneration to contractors for carrying liquor from Distillery to Bonded Depots. The increase in the Public Works Expenditure was in connection with the preliminary investigation of the project for a large reservoir across the Cauvery near Belgola.

4. The net result of the above and of a number of other variations which, on account of their unimportance need not be explained here, was an improvement of 15,75 over the Estimate.

Change in the form of accounts.

5. During the year under report the following changes were made in the classification and in the method of exhibiting the Railway Receipts:—

(1) The whole of the charges connected with the Mining Revenue was brought together under a new Major head, 10—Charges against Mining Revenue in terms of the Government Order No. Fl. 6050—G. F. 280-04-55, dated the 4th February 1907. This change could not be effected in the Budget Estimates for want of the requisite details, but it was made in the Revised.

(2) The other change is that already mentioned in the opening paragraph of this Report, viz., the reversion to the old system of deducting the Working Expenses from the gross receipts and showing the net receipts as revenue. This system was adopted as being the more convenient mode of exhibiting the true earnings.

6. The following summary gives the Budget and Account figures for the year 1907-08 which are reviewed in this Report. The details will be found in the appended statement.

NOTE.—In this statement both the Budget and Account figures are net, i.e., on revenue side the gross figures minus refunds are shown, while on the charge side the gross expenditure minus departmental receipts are given. The revenue from Salt has been deducted from miscellaneous expenditure as usual.

8. The more important variations in the actuals as compared with the Budget Estimates have been already explained in paras 2 and 3 above, while the less important ones are explained later on under the heads concerned.

Comparison with the year 1906-07.

9. The comparison in respect of the Revenue with the year 1906-07 is as under:—

	1906-07	1907-08	Difference More +, less —
Principal Heads of Revenue ...	1,75,42	1,81,17	+5,75
Mining Revenue ...	16,47	15,83	—64
Interest ...	3,62	7,07	+3,45
Civil Departments ...	4,00	4,40	+40
Miscellaneous ...	1,61	1,61	...
Military ...	28	31	+3
State Railways ...	9,06	9,42	+36
Public Works Department ...	3,30	4,02	+72
Cauvery Power Scheme ...	20,11	17,58	—2,53
Total ...	2,33,87	2,41,41	+7,54

10. The important variations under the Principal Heads of Revenue were the following:—

	1906-07	1907-08	Difference More +, less—
Land Revenue ...	1,00,31	1,03,80	+3,49
Forest ...	19,16	22,77	+3,61
Excise ...	39,77	41,83	+2,06
Assessed Taxes ...	3,30	3,17	—13
Sayer Customs ...	3,68	3	-3,65
Salt ...	18	10	—8
Stamps ...	7,58	7,98	+40
Registration ...	1,44	1,49	+5
Total ...	1,75,42	1,81,17	+5,75

11. The large increase under Land Revenue was mostly due to the collection of suspended revenue, while that under Forest was the result of better rates secured for sandal-wood. The increase under Excise was the combined effect of an increase of revenue on arrack and enhanced toddy tree-tax. The revenue under Sayer Customs was almost nil owing to the abolition of the halat on supari. The Stamp Revenue showed a small increase consequent on the larger sale of General and Court-fee Stamps.

The Mining Revenue was slightly better and the improvement was solely in the rent realised on prospecting lands.

The large increase under Interest was due to the additional investment made and the recovery of arrears.

The improvement over the estimate in the Receipts of the Civil Departments was the net result of a slight falling off under Courts of Law and of increases in the fee-income from schools and in the amount of contributions on account of Local Fund Dispensaries adjusted during the year.

The deterioration in the Revenue from the Cauvery Power Scheme was due to the levy of the reduced rate of £10 per H. P., for the I Installation Power in terms of the contract with the Mining Companies. The Railway receipts were higher consequent on the development of traffic on the Mysore-Harihar line. The increase in the Public Works Revenue was the result, partly of a nominal credit of the contribution towards the maintenance charges of the Chamarajendra Water Works and partly of larger realisations from sale of water to the Mines.

12. A similar comparison as regards expenditure is made below :—

	1906-07	1907-08	Difference More +, less—
Direct Demands on Revenue	31,50	31,30	—20
Mining Revenue	15	1,98	+1,83
Interest	3,08	2,96	—12
Palace	19,40	19,40	...
Salaries and Expenses of Civil Departments ...	48,75	50,60	+1,85
Miscellaneous Civil Charges	49,51	48,94	—57
Military	13,64	12,90	—74
Famine Relief and Insurance	2,00	2,00	...
State Railways Revenue Account	7,11	7,19	+8
Public Works Department, including construction of Railways	34,21	32,37	—1,84
Cauvery Power Scheme	4,57	5,28	+71
Total ...	2,13,92	2,14,92	+1,00

13. Under Direct Demands on Revenue, the small excesses under Land Revenue and Excise were more than counterbalanced by the savings under Refunds and Drawbacks and Forest.

The large increase under Charges against Mining Revenue was the result of the arrangement made for the first time during the year of bringing together under one head the whole of the expenditure connected with this Revenue.

Under Salaries and Expenses of the Civil Departments, the increase was caused by the special payment of 5 lakhs of the Building Grant to the Indian Institute of Science.

The saving in the Miscellaneous Civil Charges was in consequence of the reduced grant provided for contribution to the Mysore City Improvement Fund.

The excess under the Cauvery Power Scheme and the State Railways Revenue Account were chiefly in the charges on account of Interest on Debt which increase with the increase in the Capital Outlay. Under Public Works the expenditure in 1907-08, though large, was slightly less than the very high figures of 1906-07.

Appropriation Audit.

14. No additional grant was sanctioned during the year. The following statement shows the excess over Budget grants still requiring sanction for which additional allotments have not been made by re-appropriation :—

SECTION A.—PRINCIPAL HEADS OF REVENUE.

REVENUE.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
1,75,42	1,71,68	1,80,37	1,81,17

17. The receipts in this section exceeded the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 9,49 and 5,75 respectively.

As compared with the Budget there were large increases under Land Revenue (4,30), Forest (2,27) and Excise (2,83). There was also some improvement in the Revenues under Stamps and Registration, while there was a slight fall in the receipts under Assessed Taxes and Salt.

The improvement over the actuals of the previous year was chiefly under Forest, Excise and Land Revenue.

The causes which led to the above results as well as the shortage of 3,65 under Sayer are explained under the heads concerned.

I. Land Revenue.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
91,89	Assessment on lands...	91,00	95,82	94,88
528	Quit-rent of minor Inam villages including Kayamgutta	4,93	5,50	5,38
307	Miscellaneous	3,47	3,10	3,50
7	Rent on toddy trees	10	8	4
1,00,31	Total ...	99,50	1,04,50	1,03,80

18. The receipts under this head showed an improvement of 4,30 over the budget and of 3,49 over the actuals of the previous year. The increase over the estimate was chiefly under Assessment on Lands due mainly to the collection of about 3 lakhs of suspended revenue and partly also to the expansion of cultivation and the revision of Survey Settlement in some of the taluks.

As compared with the previous actuals the bulk of the increase was under Assessment on Lands. The head Miscellaneous also showed a slight increase.

The revised estimate was fairly accurate.

II. Forest.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
15,77	Timber and other produce removed by Government agency	17,32	17,29	17,89
3,10	Do by consumers or purchasers...	3,04	4,35	4,60
1	Confiscated drift and waif wood ...	1	1	1
28	Miscellaneous	13	20	27
19,16	Total ...	20,50	21,85	22,77

19. The receipts exceeded the estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 2,27 and 3,61 respectively, and this improvement was the result of better realisations under all the minor heads, except Confiscated Drift and Waif Wood, the revenue under which is very insignificant. Under Timber and other produce removed by Government Agency the large increase was in the realisation from sandalwood, 1,60, due to a very favourable rate (average Rs. 551 per ton) secured during the year for that wood. Against this there was a decrease of 98 under Timber consequent on the difficulties as regards transport experienced in the Shimoga and Kadur Districts. Under Timber and other produce removed by consumers or purchasers the noticeable increases were under Timber (28) and Other Minor Produce (1,27). The former of these was due chiefly to selling standing trees previously marked by the Department in some of the coupes in Shimoga and Kadur, and the latter to better realisations from sales of leases for the collection of tangadi bark, gall-nut, etc. Under Miscellaneous the chief increase was under Other Sources and Rent on toddy trees, both of which are fluctuating items.

The improvement over the actuals of the previous year was under Timber and other produce removed both by Government Agency and by consumers or purchasers. This result was greatly due to the better rates secured for Timber, Sandalwood and Minor Forest Produce at the respective auction sales.

The increase over the Revised was due to the realisation from sandalwood having been higher than anticipated.

III. Excise.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
20,02	Arrack	19,75	21,09	21,80
18,67	Toddy	18,06	19,26	18,85
9	Beer	15	5	6
2	Akki Bhoja—License Fees	2	3	3
53	Ganja	55	40	59
34	Opium	38	38	41
7	Miscellaneous	6	6	6
3	Proportionate share of the cost of Central Distillery Establishment charges recovered from the Civil and Military Station.	3	3	3
39,77	Total ...	39,00	41,30	41,83

20. The revenue from this progressive head exceeded both the estimate and the previous year's actuals, the excess in the former case being 2,83 and in the latter 2,06. The increase in both the cases was under Arrack and Toddy and was the result of increased revenue from arrack, the enhancement of the toddy tree-tax and the increase in the number of toddy trees tapped. There was, however, a fall of 97 under Toddy, Government Farms, and Shop-rental, as compared with the actuals of the previous year, but this was more than made up by the increase in the Tree-tax mentioned above.

The actuals in the aggregate closely followed the Revised, though there were some variations in the details.

IV. Assessed Taxes.

Accounts, 1906-07	3,30
Budget, 1907-08	3,30
Revised, 1907-08	3,35
Accounts, 1907-08	3,17

21. The small decrease in this Revenue was partly the result of reduction in the rate of Assessment on vacant building sites and partly to the formation of local "Unions" to which the Mohatarfa, derived within the areas comprised in the Unions, has been assigned.

V. Sayer.

Accounts, 1906-07	3,68
Budget, 1907-08	...
Revised, 1907-08	2
Accounts, 1907-08	3

22. The halat on Supari was abolished with effect from the 1st of July 1907. Vide Government Order No. Fl. 6878-88, dated 14th March 1907. The small realisation during the year was on account of arrears of previous year.

VI. Salt.

Accounts, 1906-07	...	...	... 19
Budget, 1907-08	...	...	... 16
Revised, 1907-08	...	...	... 10
Accounts, 1907-08	...	...	... 10

23. This source of Revenue is gradually shrinking with the lowering of the tax on salt in British India.

VII. Stamps.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads		Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
2,99	Sale of General Stamps ...	...	2,96	3,10	3,20
4,24	Sale of Court-fee Stamps ...	...	4,50	4,40	4,47
8	Sale of plain paper for Court purposes	...	8	7	7
16	Duty on impressing unstamped and insufficiently stamped documents	...	20	12	12
10	Fines and penalties	...	10	10	11
1	Miscellaneous	...	1	1	1
7,58	Total	...	7,85	7,80	7,98

24. This is a fluctuating head and the revenue derived under it depends more or less on the character of the season and condition of the people. The total actuals of the year under report very closely followed the estimate but they were in excess of the previous actuals by 40. The chief increases were in the sales of General and Court-fee Stamps.

VIII. Registration.

Accounts, 1906-07	...	...	... 1,44
Budget, 1907-08	...	...	... 1,37
Revised, 1907-08	...	...	... 1,45
Accounts, 1907-08	...	...	... 1,49

25. The slight increase in this Revenue was caused by the general increase in the number of documents registered and this is attributed to the unfavourable character of the season in both the Tumkur and Chitaldrug Districts.

SECTION A.—DIRECT DEMANDS ON THE REVENUE.

Expenditure.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
31,50	31,83	31,77	31,30

26. The expenditure under this group was less than the estimate and also than the actuals of the previous year by 53 and 20 respectively. The less expenditure in the former case was chiefly under Refunds (12), Forest (69) and Registration (3) and it was to some extent counterbalanced by the increase in the expenditure under Land Revenue (17) and Excise (12). Compared with the previous actuals, while there was an excess under Forest (5) and Excise (12), the other heads, notably Land Revenue, showed comparatively less expenditure. The charges under Sayer were practically nil for the reason explained in para 22.

1. Refunds and Drawbacks.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
1,63	Land Revenue	1,64	1,63	1,60
3	Forest	1	1	1
26	Excise	32	30	27
1	Sayer Customs	...	...	...
21	Stamps	24	24	22
...	Other Refunds	1	...	...
2,14	Total ...	2,22	2,18	2,10

27. Considering the fluctuating nature of this head, the expenditure closely followed the estimate and the actuals of the previous year. The small decrease of 12 as compared with the estimate is shared by almost all the minor heads.

2. Land Revenue.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
54	Revenue Commissioner	60	57	58
7,55	Charges of District Administration ...	7,76	7,57	7,59
8,12	Remuneration to shanbhogs and patels ...	7,58	8,22	8,13
1,80	Revenue Survey and Settlement ...	1,73	1,58	1,58
8	Inam Department	6	5	5
11	District Survey Establishment ...	10	11	10
13	Assignments	15	13	12
18,33	Total ...	17,98	18,23	18,15

28. The total charges exceeded the estimate by 17 and this excess was the net result of several variations in the details. Under Charges of District Administration there was an increase of 12 in the charges for General Establishments due to increased salaries of Deputy and Assistant Commissioners and the payment of leave allowances. The appointment of Probationary Assistant Commissioners after the Budget Estimate was framed also added to the above increase. Against this excess there were considerable savings under Taluk Establishments (17) due chiefly to the full number of Shekdars according to the new sanctioned scale not having been entertained and under Supplies and Services (10) owing to the provisions made under the several items especially Revenue Process Serving Establishment, not having been utilized in full. The charges for Remuneration to Shanbhogs and Patels exceeded the estimate by 55 owing probably to the payment of arrears of potgi allowances. In the case of Revenue Survey and Settlement the saving of 15 was partly in the lump sum grant for Establishment and partly under Supplies and Services and Contingencies.

Compared with the actuals of the previous year, there was a net saving of 18. Under Revenue Survey and Settlement the decrease of 22 was caused by the retirement of the Survey Commissioner and the appointment in his stead of a Superintendent on reduced pay, the abolition of the post of Special Assistant and the savings in the lump sum grant for Establishment. This saving was diminished by an excess of 4 under Revenue Commissioner due to the revision of the Establishment of the Revenue Commissioner and a similar excess under Charges of District Administration caused by the gradual introduction of the new scale of pay to the Shekdars and the grant of horse allowance to all the Shekdars. The charges on account of Travelling Allowance to Amildars also added to the increase, as such charges during the year were for the whole year against only a portion in the previous year. The excess under Charges of District Administration would have been more but for the savings in the Deputy and Assistant Commissioners' and Taluk Cutcherry Establishments.

Except under the minor head Remuneration to Shanbhogs the Revised Estimate was accurate and on the whole the actuals closely followed the Revised.

3. Forest.

Accounts 1906-07	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08	Revised 1907-08	Accounts 1907-08

3,01	Establishment	3,09	2,89	2,92
6,59	Total ...	7,33	6,86	6,64

29. This expenditure showed a saving of 69 on the estimate but exceeded the previous year's actuals by 5.

As compared with the estimate the large saving of 52 under Conservancy and Works was due to the timber operations having been hampered by transport difficulties and by short supply of labour consequent on the prevalence of plague in the Shimoga District and of cholera in South Canara which supplies the bulk of the labour, and the limited quantity of sandalwood collected in view of the large stock on hand. There was also a large saving under Establishment due partly to some of the vacancies not having been filled up and partly to less charges under Travelling Allowances and Contingencies.

As compared with the previous actuals the excess of 14 under Conservancy and Works was to a large extent diminished by the savings of 9 under Establishment. The comparatively large timber operations and the increased expenditure under Buildings and Communications caused an excess of 26; but this was to some extent counterbalanced by the decrease of 10 under Live and Dead Stock caused by the death of a few elephants which were not replaced and the savings under Establishment due to the causes above explained. The Revised which was based on the Conservator's Estimate proved too high as regards Conservancy and Works.

4. Excise.

52	Supplies and Services	61	85	77
10	Contingencies	12	11	10
3,18	Total ...	3,18	3,39	3,30

30. This expenditure showed an excess of 12 over both the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year.

The excess in both the cases was chiefly under Supplies and Services due to the payment of arrears of remunerations to contractors for carrying liquor from Distillery to Bonded Depots. The excess over the estimate was only partially reduced by the small savings under Salaries, Allowances and Contingencies; that over the actuals of the previous year was met by a little more than a half, by less expenditure under Salaries due to the abolition of the office of the Deputy Excise Commissioner and his Establishment and of the temporary executive staff previously entertained.

The slight saving as compared with the Revised was under Supplies and Services due to the grant for uniform not having been fully utilised and to the loss by Bung wastage of liquor having been less than anticipated.

SECTION AA.—MINING REVENUE.

Mining Royalty and Leases.

45	Rent on prospecting lands	10	70	70
...	Fines on assignments	...	...	...
16,47	Total ...	15,50	15,20	15,83

34. The Revenue under this head exceeded the estimate by 33 but fell short of the actuals of the previous year by 64.

Compared with the estimate there was a decrease of 27 under Royalty due partly to the diminished output in the Champion Reefs and Balaghat Mines and partly to larger outstandings than usual. The decrease was, however, more than made up by the very large receipts under Rents on prospecting lands the estimate under which could not be accurate for want of necessary data.

Compared with the previous year the Royalty realised was less and but for the increased rents realised the difference would have been more. The Revised has proved too cautious.

35. The following is a comparative table of gold produced and Royalty realised during the two years.

36. This is a new head of expenditure opened in terms of paragraphs 22 and 26 of Government Order No. Fl. 6050—Gen. Fin. 28-04-55 of the 6th February 1907. To this head the charges against the Mining Industry at the Kolar Gold Fields were transferred in the accounts from the Major head concerned as detailed in the Standard Budget attached to the order quoted above. For want of sufficient details, it was not possible, at the time the Budget Estimate for the year was prepared, to transfer to this head the grants from the other heads concerned; but this transfer was effected in the Revised. The actuals have in the total closely followed the Revised.

N. B.—For purposes of comparison the details under the expenditure heads concerned from which transfers have been made are shown gross and the amounts transferred deducted from the total.

SECTION B.—INTEREST.

RECEIPTS.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
3,62	5,52	6,40	7,07

37. The receipts in this section exceeded the estimate by 1,55 and the previous actuals by 3,45. The increase was mainly due to higher receipts under Profit or Loss which are explained in their proper place.

The realisation under Interest on Loans was also better.

X. Interest.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
70	Interest on Loans	92	79	1,42
30	Interest on arrears of Revenue	24	35	35
1,00	Total ...	1,16	1,14	1,77

38. Against the total demand of 3,57 on account of Interest on Loans a deduction of 2,65 was made as not likely to be recovered during the year. This deduction was made in view of the fact that the realisations of the preceding years were very poor. The actuals however were better and the improvement was mainly in the Interest on Loans to Agricultural Banks (chiefly Saklespur and Chikmagalur) and Interest on Loans to Encumbered Jahgirdars. The receipts under Interest on Arrears of Revenue were also better.

The Revised did not anticipate the large recoveries from certain Agricultural Banks made about the end of the year by the adoption of coercive measures.

39. The following table shows the Demand, Collection and Balance of Interest on Loans for the year 1907-08 :—

Loans	Demand			Collection			Balance
	Arrears	1907-08	Total	Arrears	1907-08	Total

Budget,	1907-08	4,36
Revised,	1907-08	5,26
Accounts,	1907-08	5,30

40. The receipts under this head exceeded the estimate by 94 and the actuals of the previous year by 2,68. The increase over the estimate was partly on account of the additional investment of 12 lakhs made in Government of India Securities after the estimate was framed and partly also to the increased interest derived from the Bank of Madras on the Government balance with that Bank. As usual, efforts were made to keep up the balance with the Bank as high as possible during the busy season.

Compared with the previous year, the increase was chiefly due to the above cause and partly also to the fact that the interest on 50 lakhs of the Government Securities for the second half of the year 1906-07 could not be realised that year as the last day fell on a Sunday.

The actuals slightly exceeded the Revised.

SECTION B.—INTEREST.

EXPENDITURE.

3,08	3,15	3,17	2,96

41. The expenditure in this Section fell short of the estimate by 19 and of the actuals of the previous year by 12.

11. Interest on Ordinary Debt.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.		Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.

20		81	76	65
11	Less Interest debitable to Cauvery Power Scheme	70	65	62
9	Total ...	11	11	3

42. The actuals were less than the estimate by 8 and the previous accounts by 6. In the former case there was a decrease of 15 in the interest payable on the 4 per cent Mysore State Loan of 1906-07 as pro-notes to the extent of about 2 lakhs had not been issued for want of the required succession and other certificates. The amount of interest transferred to the Cauvery Power Scheme and deducted from the above was also less as the Capital Outlay on the III Installation fell short of the estimate.

In the latter case the charges under Interest on the 4 per cent Mysore State Loan was greater by 45 due to the fact that in the previous year the interest paid was only for one half year against two in the year under report and that in a few cases the claim for interest was made only in the subsequent year. The amount of interest deducted from the above by transfer to the Cauvery Power Scheme was also greater as the Capital Expenditure from the Loan amount was greater than in the previous year. The net result was a decrease of 6 as mentioned above.

12. Interest on other Obligations.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
2,33	Interest on Mysore Government Savings Bank Deposits	2,30	2,30	2,18
17	Interest on Endowment Funds	17	16	16
42	Interest on Mysore State Life Insurance Fund	45	48	47
1	Refunds	1	...	...
2,93	Total ...	2,93	2,94	2,81

43. The expenditure closely followed the estimate and the actuals of the previous year except under the minor head—Interest on Mysore Government Savings Bank Deposits, where it fell short by 12 and 15 respectively. This was due to the fluctuations in the Deposit transactions of these Banks and also to the reason given in the succeeding para. The small increase in the Interest paid on the Mysore State Life Insurance Fund was due to the progressive increase in the balance at credit of the fund.

The Savings Banks Rules are now rigorously enforced and immediate steps taken to close all irregular accounts opened by District and Taluk Treasury Officers. Hence the actuals under Interest are less than the Revised.

13. Profit or Loss.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.
6	Loss on Investments	11	12	12
...	Interest on overdraft and on temporary loan from Madras Bank...	...	...	...
6	Total ...	11	12	12

44. The chief item of expenditure under this head is the income-tax paid on interest on Government paper. The tax so paid on the interest on additional investments of the year as well as on the arrear interest drawn during the year was the cause of the excess over the actuals of the previous year. The actuals came up to the Revised.

4,00	3,97	3,88	4,40

46. The receipts in this Section exceeded both the estimate and the actuals of the previous year by 43 and 40 respectively. Compared with the estimate the receipts under Courts of Law and Police were less while those under Education, Medical and Scientific, etc., Departments were more.

XII A. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.

53	Total ...	52	44	44

47. The receipts under this head followed pretty closely the estimate and the actuals of the previous year, except under Fees, Fines and Forfeitures a fluctuating item the realization under which fell short of both by 9.

XII B. Law and Justice—Jails.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.

...	Savings and Refunds	...	...	...
...	Miscellaneous	...	2	2
24	Total ...	25	28	25

48. The actuals on the whole correspond with the estimate and compare well with the previous actuals though there are slight variations in the details.

The less receipts under Cost of Maintenance of Civil and Military Station Prisoners were due to the arrangement of sending the long term prisoners to the Vellore Jail.

XIII. Police.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.

3	Savings and Refunds	2	2	2
1	Miscellaneous and other items ...	1	...	...
37	Total ...	25	24	23

49. In this case the actuals closely followed the estimate but fell short of the receipts of the previous year by 14. The decrease was chiefly under $\frac{7}{10}$ths share of Railway Police recovered from the Companies and it was due in the previous year to the credit of an arrear amount in connection with the Birur-Shimoga line.

XIV. Education.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.

2	Do people towards Anglo-Vernacular and Sanskrit Schools	2	1	1
2	Savings, refunds and fines ...	1	1	1
130	Total ...	120	136	135

50. The Revenue under this head shows an increase over both the estimate and the actuals of the previous year. The chief source of this increase in the former case was School Fees due apparently to under estimate. The excess in the latter case was under Sale proceeds of books, maps, etc.

XV. Medical.

Accounts 1906-07 Rs.	Minor Heads	Budget 1907-08 Rs.	Revised 1907-08 Rs.	Accounts 1907-08 Rs.

46	Contribution from District Funds on account of Local Fund Dispensaries		47	81
...	Receipts from Lunatic Labour ...	5	6	5
81	Total ...	103	87	138

51. Here again the receipts exceeded both the estimate and the previous actuals. The excess over the estimate was chiefly under Miscellaneous (14) and Contribution from Municipal and District Funds on account of Local Fund Dispensaries (19) due in the former case to a wrong credit of 13 to the minor head instead of to contribution in the Mysore District and in the latter to the recovery of arrears of contributions due.

The improvement over the previous actuals was also due to the cause mentioned above. The increase under Receipts from Lunatic Labour was owing to the closing of the "Lunatic Labour Fund" which existed previously and bringing the receipts and disbursements on the Government accounts in terms of Government Order No. 294-5—Med. 75-06-12, dated 11th July 1907. The Revised did not anticipate the large adjustments of arrears of contribution from District and Municipal Funds on account of Local Fund Dispensaries.

XVI. Scientific and other Minor Departments.

1	Agricultural Department, Mis. Receipts ...	1	1	1
7	Geological Department	6	10	9
7	Miscellaneous	8	6	8
75	Total ...	72	69	75

52. The receipts under this head compare well with the estimate and are the same with the previous year's actuals. The variations in the details are small and call for no remark.

The slight excess over the Revised was chiefly under Veterinary and Stallion receipts consequent on the increased recovery of assessment on kavals.

SECTION D.—SALARIES AND EXPENSES OF CIVIL DEPARTMENTS.

53. The net expenditure in this section compared with the estimate shows a saving of 40, but it has exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 1,85. Excluding the deduction by transfer to the head Charges against Mining Revenue, there have been excesses of 1,47 and 3,72 respectively. These excesses are mainly due to the payment of the building grant to the Indian Institute of Science. The other important variations are all explained under the several heads grouped in this section.

15. General Administration.

4	Durbar presents	...	4	1
7,37	Total ...	6,72	6,98	6,67

54. The total expenditure under this head has closely followed the estimate, being only less by 5, but it falls short of the previous actuals by 70. As compared with the estimate there was a large excess of 51 under Tour charges due to the adjustment during the year of the charges (63) incurred in connection with the Calcutta trip of His Highness the Maharaja. But this excess was more than counterbalanced by the savings under other items.

Under Civil Secretariats the saving of 13 was consequent on the appointment for a time of the General and Revenue Secretary as a Judge of the Chief Court, on the transfer from the Secretariat to the District a Probationary Assistant Commissioner, and on less charges incurred under Travelling Allowance and Contingencies; under Staff and Household of His Highness the Maharaja the saving of 6 was caused by the reversion to the British Service, about the middle of the year, of the English Tutor to the Yuvaraja; under Comptroller's Office the decrease of 21 was chiefly due to the reversion of the permanent Comptroller to the British service and the appointment of a local officer to act for him, the abolition of the appointment of the Chief Assistant with the retirement of the last incumbent thereof, the non-utilization of the provision made for an Assistant Commissioner for duty in the Comptroller's Office; and lastly to savings in establishment. Under Government Houses, Stables, Parks and Gardens the saving was chiefly in the grants for entertainment of guests, both European and Indian, and partly under Shikar charges.

Compared with the actuals of the previous year also there was decrease in expenditure. The more important of which were:-5 under Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja consequent on the payment in the previous year of the privilege leave allowances to the retiring Dewan; 36 under Civil Secretariats due mainly to increased expenditure in the previous year under Travelling Allowances of the Secretariat Officers and Establishment consequent on the Calcutta trip and the purchase of two motor cars for the use of Government Officers; 7 under Staff and Household of His Highness the Maharaja owing to the cause explained in the preceding para; Under Government Houses, etc., to the charges in the previous year in connection with the visit of Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales being special for that year. These savings were to a great extent diminished by the excess under Tour charges, the cause of which has been already explained.

The savings in the charges on account of Travelling Allowances of Officers and Establishment of the Civil Secretariats and in the cost of entertainment of guests at the Government House at Mysore could not be anticipated in the Revised.

9,29	Total ...	8,86	8,54	8,57

55. The charges under this head have closely followed the Budget estimate except under Chief Court which showed a saving of 5 consequent on the death of the permanent Chief Judge who was drawing a special rate of pay and the appointment of an acting Chief Judge. The decrease of 29 as compared with the total estimate is only nominal as the deduction now made in the accounts in terms of Government Order mentioned in paragraph

5 (1) had not been made in the estimate for the reasons already stated. The saving on the previous year's accounts was chiefly under Civil and Sessions Courts (20) and Assistant Sessions and Sub-Judges' Courts (21) and was the result of the abolition of the District Court at Bangalore and the Sub-Judges' Courts at Hassan and Chikmagalur and partly also of the transfer during the year of 23 from this to the head Charges against Mining Revenue.

The actuals have very closely followed the Revised.

16	Jail Manufactures	20	17	14
1	Refunds	...	...	...
1,28	Total ...	1,25	1,23	1,23

56. On the whole the actuals for 1907-08 have pretty closely followed both the estimate and the actuals of the previous year.

In the details there was excess of 4 under Jails and a saving of 6 under Jail Manufactures. The excess was mainly in the Dietary charges due to a slight increase in the jail population combined with the high price of food grains while the saving was under purchase of raw materials and was due to the adoption of the prescribed procedure of deducting from charges the value of raw materials used for clothing supplied to prisoners instead of crediting such value on the receipt side as was previously being done.

The actuals in the total are the same as the Revised.

17. Police.

57. The expenditure fell short of the estimate by 13 and of the actuals of the previous year by 10. Practically the whole of this saving was under Kolar Gold Fields Police and in the pay and allowances of the Superintendent. As regards the District Police the savings on the estimate under Salaries and Police Force were counterbalanced by the excess in the charges for Travelling and Horse allowances.

In this case also the Revised estimate has proved very accurate.

8,03		10,83	13,60	13,52

58. The expenditure exceeded both the estimate and the previous actuals by 2,71 and 5,49 and practically the whole of this excess was under University due to the payment during the year of the full amount of the promised building grant of five lakhs to the Indian Institute of Science against the budget provision of only two lakhs. But for this payment there would have been a saving of 29 on the estimate and a small excess of 51 over the actuals of the previous year.

Compared with the estimate, the important savings were under Government Schools, Special (8) due to the savings in the grant for workshop fitting for Manual training and the non-utilisation of the building grant; under Taluk Schools for Boys and Girls (12) chiefly due to the inclusion under this head of the provision of 16 as a grant-in-aid to the Village School Fund for loss of fee income and increase of pay to teachers which was not claimed by the Inspector-General of Education, who is the administrator of the fund, within the year and therefore lapsed; and under Scholarships (7) the grant for scholarships within the Province and in the Agricultural College not having been fully utilized. There was, however, a small excess of 8 under Miscellaneous in the charges for travelling allowances as the grant intended for meeting the requirements of the revised establishment of the inspection staff proved inadequate.

The noticeable features as compared with the previous year are the large increase under University (500), Government Schools, Special (33), Taluk Schools for Boys and Girls (8) and Miscellaneous (7). The causes which contributed to the increase under some of these heads have already been alluded to and the normal expenditure in Educational expenditure in accordance with the policy of Government accounts for the increase in others.

The difference between the Revised and the actuals is about the same as the amount provided for as grant-in-aid to the Village School Fund for loss of fee income, which, as already stated, was allowed to lapse.

59. No remarks except that the less expenditure than the actuals of the previous year was due to the absence of special grants for construction and repairs of temples and the purchase of furniture for chattrams.

6,58	Total ...	6,70	5,75	5,82

60. This expenditure fell short of the estimate by 71 and of the actuals of the previous year by 59. The saving on the Budget was distributed under all the heads except Grant-in-aid, Chemical Examiner and Bacteriologist and Refunds. The saving of 12 under Medical Establishment was in the salaries of Civil Surgeons and Hospital Assistants diminished by the increase in the travelling allowance charges; while that under Hospitals and Dispensaries (18) was chiefly in the Local Fund Dispensary charges consequent on the cost of repairs of Dispensaries appearing in the Public Works Accounts. The decrease of 6 under Durbar Physician was due to the absence of any charges on account of house rent and furniture allowance. The large saving of 14 under Medical Stores was the result of less purchase of Europe Medicines. Sanitation and Vaccination and Medical scholarships contributed a saving of 13 and 7, respectively, as in the one case the lump-sum grant made for the organisation of a Health Department was not utilised in full and in the other there was no fresh grant of scholarships for pupil Hospital Assistants and Sanitary Inspector pupils.

Compared with the actuals of the previous year there were large variations in the details the net result of which was a decrease of 59. The more important of these are savings of 30 under Medical Establishment, of 24 under Hospitals and Dispensaries, and of 18 under Medical Stores, and an excess of 8 under Sanitation and Vaccination. The saving under Medical Establishment was due chiefly to the payment in the previous year of arrears of the increased rate of pay to the permanent Senior Surgeon and the payment of his privilege leave allowances in addition to the pay of the acting incumbent and partly to the saving in the salaries of Civil Surgeons and Assistant Surgeons; that under Hospitals and Dispensaries was owing to the absence of any building grant such as existed in the previous year in respect of the Wesleyan Mission Hospital for Women and Children at Mysore; and under Medical Stores to the comparatively less purchase of Europe Medicines. The excess under Sanitation and Vaccination was the result of the formation during the year of the new Health Department.

The slight increase over the Revised was chiefly under Sanitation and Vaccination, an item the expenditure under which is not yet settled.

2,90	Total ...	3,37	2,26	2,28

61. The total charges under this head fell short of the budget estimate by 27 but exceeded the actuals of the previous year by 20.

The savings as compared with the estimate were chiefly under Experimental cultivation (14) and Veterinary and Stallion charges (10), due in the former case to the Entomologist and Mycologist having joined his appointment in December instead of in August 1907 and to savings in the special grants for his establishment, books and journals and apparatus and chemicals intended for his use, and in the latter case to the non-utilisation in full of the special provision made for improvements in the Veterinary Department and to savings in establishment and in the grants for Supplies and Services of the Amrut Mahal Department.

Compared with the previous year's accounts there was some increase under Geological Department (8) due chiefly to the progressive salaries of the officers and to the grant of a local allowance to the Inspector of Mines; under Experimental Cultivation (6) owing to the appointment during the year of an Entomologist and Mycologist and to the purchase of books and journals, and apparatus and chemicals required for his use; and under Public Exhibition and Fairs (10) consequent on the holding for the first time an Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition at Mysore during the time of the Dasara.

The excesses were to some extent diminished by a saving of 9 under Archæological Department, due to the reduction in Establishment and to the absence during the year of the privilege leave allowances of the Director of Archæological Researches.

The excess over the Revised was under Geological Department. The calculation made on the basis of the 8 months' actuals proved in this case somewhat low.

65. The improvement over the budget estimate was chiefly in the amount of unclaimed and lapsed deposits (8), a fluctuating head and in the receipts from Dividends and Duties (4) consequent on the larger production of cotton goods in the Mills.

The difference between the Revised and the actuals was due to a wrong credit under Dividends and Duties which was rectified in the final accounts.

66. The total expenditure of the year in this section has very well followed the Budget Estimate; but it has been less than the actuals of the previous year. There was considerable saving under Miscellaneous but it was counterbalanced by excess expenditure under Superannuation Allowances and Pensions and Stationery and Printing.

3	Compassionate Allowances ...	2	3	2
11	Gratuities	10	11	10
5,40	Total ...	5,82	6,14	6,22

68. Compared with the estimate and the actuals of the previous year this expenditure shows excess of 40 and 82 respectively. The increase in both cases is under Superannuation and Retired Allowances. This estimate is prepared carefully according to the rules prescribed in Article 1517 of the Civil Account Code. But the rapid increase of pension charges year after year has rendered the task of estimating them a difficult one. Within a period of 8 years these charges have nearly doubled. The average yearly growth is more than 41 and the growth during each of the last two years has been no less than 83. It is desirable in the interests of the State that this rapid growth be enquired into and the causes which tend towards such growth be checked as far as possible.

In spite of the large increase anticipated in the Revised in regard to the charges on account of Superannuation and Retired Allowances, the actuals exceeded the revised by 10.

69. The following table shows the growth of pension charges during the last eight years

1,93	Total ...	2,20	2,29	2,27

70. The charges under this head exceeded both the estimate and the previous actuals by 7 and 34 respectively. Compared with the estimate the excess was under Printing and Gazette Office and it was due partly to increased expenditure under piece-work establishment and partly to the deduction made on account of anticipated savings having proved higher.

As compared with the accounts of the previous year the increase was wholly under the same minor head Printing and Gazette Office due to the purchase of new machinery and type.

The Revised has been fairly accurate.

6,34	Total ...	5,13	4,34	4,59

71. The actuals of the year showed a saving of 57 on the estimate and of 1,78 on the previous actuals. The important decreases as compared with the Budget occurred under Loss by Exchange (11) Charities and Donations (50) and Plague charges (5). Against these savings there was increased expenditure under Contributions (8) and Refunds (9). The saving under Loss by Exchange was due to the fall in the rate of exchange while that under Charities and Donations was the result of not utilising half the grant provided for the Bust and Additional Statue of His Highness the late Maharaja. The reductions effected in the Plague Establishment account for less expenditure under Plague charges. As regards Contributions and Refunds, the excess in the former case was caused by payment to the Bangalore City Municipality of the charges incurred in connection with the rebuilding of Patnulpet, Bangalore City, and in the latter case by a large refund of lapsed deposits.

The expenditure included under this head is mostly of a very uncertain character and varies from year to year, and its comparison with the previous year's outlay serves no useful purpose. The important variations may, however, be noticed. The decreases under Loss by Exchange (11) and Plague Charges (7) and the increase of 11 under Refunds were due to the causes already explained above. The charges under Reception of Important Personages depend upon the number and importance of the personages received and during the year under report it was less by 20. The head Contributions included in the previous year a large grant to the Mysore City Improvement Fund and the saving was somewhat diminished by the compensation paid to the Sringeri Jahgir for the abolition of the halat on supari. The small excess of 10 under Charities, Donations, etc., was owing to the comparatively smaller grant provided for in the previous year.

The Revised did not anticipate the payment, ordered by Government about the close of the year, to the Bangalore Municipality on account of charges incurred in connection with the rebuilding of the Patnulpet and the large refund of lapsed deposits.

72. The total receipts in this section compares well with the Budget Estimate and the actuals of the previous year. The small decrease under the Kunigal Farm as compared with the estimate was due to a fall in the Sale of foals, but it was more than made up by the increases under Military Proper and Store Department.

1,05	Palace Military	1,00	1,00	1,00
13,64	Total ...	13,76	12,97	12,90

73. This expenditure was kept well within the year's grant. Compared with the estimate, there were savings under most of the minor heads. The decrease of 12 under Imperial Service Regiment was the result of savings partly in the pay and allowances of non-commissioned officers and savars and partly in the allowances paid for good conduct and compensation for dearness of gram and ragi; under Local Service Regiment the saving of 5 was due to less charges incurred for allowances and hospital and veterinary medicines; under Government Stud Farm, Kunigal, the saving of 7 was chiefly due to the non-utilisation of the grant for purchase of stock; under Barr or Native Infantry, the saving of 15 was in salaries and establishment. The Imperial Service Transport Corps showed a saving of 25 owing chiefly to the full sanctioned scale not having been entertained and partly also to the reduced expenditure under clothing charges, feed of ponies, etc. The less charges under Superannuation and Retired allowances (18) was probably due to a portion of the claim having been left in arrears.

As compared with the actuals of the previous year, there were savings under the same minor heads and such savings were due to (1) less charges under compensation for dearness of gram and ragi and cost of free kit, (2) the absence of any charge for marching order equipment and of the heavy payment in the previous year of arrear charges in connection with the feed and keep of ponies; (3) the debit of the Palace Military pensions to Palace instead of to this head; and (4) the grant for Palace Military charges having been limited to one lakh against the previous system of allowing the actuals.

The actuals have closely followed the Revised except under Superannuation and Retired Allowances.

77. The net receipts under this head proved better than the estimate by 1,49 and of the actuals of the previous year by 36, in spite of the large increase of 3,20 in the Working Expenses and in the Company's share of profits on one of the lines. This good result was mainly due to the improved traffic on, and the consequent large earnings of, the Mysore-Harihar Line. The increase on the Kolar Gold Fields line is probably due to an under estimate of receipts. The Bangalore-Hindupur and Birur-Shimoga Lines show a decline due to less traffic.

7,11	Guaranteed Interest paid to the Southern Mahratta Railway Company	7,20	7,20	7,19

78. The actuals exceed the previous actuals by 8 and this excess was caused by the additional capital outlay incurred by the Company out of the balance of the loan raised by it for such expenditure.

The net result of the Railway Receipts and Charges show during the year as noted below a deficit of 2,23 against 65 of the year previous and this is due to the increased capital outlay incurred by Government during the year:—

79. The improvement in this revenue over the estimate was due to a nominal credit of 30 on account of the Municipal and District Fund shares of contribution towards the maintenance of the Chamarajendra Water Works. This was taken in the estimate as a deduction from charges.

Compared with the previous actuals the excess was partly due to the above cause and partly to the larger sale of water to the Kolar Gold Mines.

SECTION J. & K.—PUBLIC WORKS.

EXPENDITURE.

23,90		24,01	24,28	24,24
34,21	Total ...	32,14	32,04	32,37

80. This expenditure shows as compared with the estimate an excess of 23 and as compared with previous actuals a saving of 1,84.

The excess in the first case was the result of several variations in the details. Against the increase of 25 under Irrigation Major works caused by the charges connected with the preliminary investigation of a project for a large reservoir across the Cauvery near Belgola, there was a saving of a similar amount under Irrigation Minor works due to the non-payment of land compensation, late sanctions to estimates and difficulty in procuring labour. The lapse of 72 under Civil works was owing to (1) the non-receipt in time of certain door fittings ordered from England for the new Palace at Mysore, (2) the failure of the contractors to finish the Memorials at Calcutta, (3) the inability of the Department to start the work of the canopy over the statue of His Highness the late Maharaja of Mysore for want of suitable materials, and (4) the stoppage of the work of constructing the servants' quarters to the Government House at Mysore in consequence of certain deviations proposed by the Military Assistant.

The Construction of Railways showed a large excess of 96 owing to the unexpected increase in the proportionate share of the general store balance payable by the Mysore Government, and also to the execution of urgent capital works not provided for in the estimate.

As compared with the actuals of the previous year while there was a large decrease of 2,46 under Irrigation Major works and another 1,51 under Civil works the Irrigation Minor works and the Railways showed excesses of 28 and 1,86 respectively. This was due to the comparatively smaller programme of works during the year under the two former Major heads and to additional expenditure incurred under the two latter as explained above.

There is practically no data on which the revised estimate is based. In the Public Works Department the re-appropriations are made about the close of the year when the expenditure on works is generally heavy. As regards construction of Railways the difficulty is felt all the more since the expenditure is incurred by the Railway Company. Hence the Revised estimate is sometimes not a very close one.

81. The receipts in this section exceeded the estimate by 1,58 but fell short of the actuals of the previous year by 2,53.

The increase in the former case was due to less remissions found necessary on account of stoppages of supply of power and partly to the increased supply. The decrease in the latter case was the result of the levy, in terms of the agreement with the Mining Companies, of only £ 10 per H. P. for the 1st Installation power from 6th August 1907 against £ 24 charged in the previous year.

73	Bangalore Lighting and Power Supply ...	42	97	77
4,57	Total ...	5,66	6,04	5,28

82. The actuals were on the whole less than the estimate by 38.

There was a large lapse of 64 under Working Expenses due chiefly to the non-receipt in time of the stores ordered from abroad, to the adjustment by write back to the 3rd Installation of the Commission charges in connection with the 4 per cent State loan and to the fall in exchange.

The Interest on Debt charges also were less as the capital outlay on the 3rd Installation did not come up to the estimated figure. But these savings were to some extent set off by the increase of 35 under Bangalore Lighting and Power Supply due to the additional grant sanctioned during the year with a view to complete the Lighting works.

In the previous year there was a minus debit of 20 against the I and II Installations on account of value of surplus stores transferred therefrom. The absence of such debit during the year and the increase in the interest charges consequent on the increase in the outlay on the 3rd Installation, caused an excess of 72 over the actuals of the previous year.

Budget	1907-08	13,94

83. The lapse of 1,13 as compared with the estimate was owing to the late receipt of sanction to the purchase of copper wire for the 2nd line to Bangalore and also the late starting of the work of the Transmission Line to Mysore. The excess over the previous actuals was due to the work in connection with the 3rd Installation having been in full swing during the year.

86. The State Life Insurance Fund shows an increase over the estimate which is the combined effect of more receipts and less expenditure. As increased receipts of the Insurance Fund means increase in the risk and liability of the fund, the increased receipts must not be mistaken as profits. There is a falling off in the Savings Bank Deposits.

87. This group consists of a large number of items the estimates under most of which must be very rough. In these circumstances large variations must occur in the actuals. The increase of 2,28 in the net credit over the Budget Estimate is made up as follows:—

88. There was a slight improvement in the recoveries from the Agricultural Banks in the Shimoga and Mysore Districts and of the arrears of the Land Improvement Loans. The actual amount advanced under the Land Improvement Loans Regulations was less than anticipated. The increase of 4,37 in the net debit was chiefly due to the payment of 5 lakhs to the Bikanir Durbar out of the loan of 12 lakhs agreed to be paid to that state.

89. The following is a statement showing the Demand, Collection and Balance of the several loans during the year under report:—

ADDRESS

DEWAN OF MYSORE

TO

THE REPRESENTATIVE ASSEMBLY

27th October 1909

GENTLEMEN,

It is now my privilege, by command of His Highness the Maharaja, to lay before you a brief resumé of the administration of the State during the past year and a forecast of the measures proposed to be carried into effect during the coming year. But, before proceeding to the business of the day, I must congratulate you on the happy auspices under which we meet in consequence of the improvement of the seasonal conditions. The fears that at one time existed of the acute distress of the last year developing into one of the most severe famines that the country has ever known, have, by the grace of God, been dispelled; and His Highness the Maharaja is glad to welcome you to the capital under such happy circumstances. His Highness much appreciates the public spirit which you have displayed in assembling here to perform your duties notwithstanding the prevalence of plague in the City.

THE DISTRESS.
Seasonal conditions.

2. The outstanding feature of the past year has been the severe distress that prevailed over a large area of the State. As you will remember, the years 1904-05 and 1905-06 were disappointing to the agriculturist and in the latter year scarcity of a somewhat grave character prevailed in the districts of Kolar, Tumkur and Chitaldrug and in parts of Shimoga. The rains failed; prices ruled high owing to general causes as well as to the local scarcity, and various relief measures had to be set on foot. Fortunately, however, the opportune rains which fell in the latter part of 1906 relieved the situation and prevented the distress from becoming very acute. The year

1906-07 was also not free from anxiety, though on the whole the rains that year were not inadequate. The outturn of crops was more or less normal, but it was not sufficient to compensate the ryots for the losses they had suffered in the two preceding years. Prices did not much decline from the high pitch they had reached in 1905-06. The year 1907-08 was also abnormal. The rainfall was on the whole more than the average for the previous 37 years but it was ill-distributed and unseasonable. The south-west monsoon was unusually heavy in the malnad and this contributed to the high provincial average. But it was deficient in the maidan districts. The north-east monsoon on which the maidan districts mainly depended for the filling of their tanks was disappointing. The districts of Tumkur and Chitaldrug fared very badly, the actual rainfall being 2½ and 2¾ inches against an average of 8½ and 6½ inches respectively. The Vaisakhi crop failed in consequence, the total outturn was much less than during the previous year and the prices of food grains, which were already high, rose still higher. The year 1908-09 thus opened under very unfavourable auspices. The south-west monsoon from April to September was not as good as the situation required. Though the monthly averages showed no marked deficiency, the rainfall was neither timely nor well-distributed in any of the districts. This was particularly the case in the Kolar, Tumkur and Chitaldrug districts. In September, however, there were some showers in all parts of the State, which improved the situation to some extent. The advent of the north-east monsoon was then eagerly looked for with the fervent hope that it might prove normal and stave off acute scarcity.

3. The hope was not fulfilled and the north-east monsoon proved a failure in the Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur and Chitaldrug districts and was very deficient elsewhere. As will appear from the figures given in the margin, the area under cultivation throughout the State during the year under review, excluding alienated tracts for which no returns exist, was (with a small difference in the comparison with 1905-06) the smallest on record during a series of 5 years, showing a decrease of more than 200,000 acres as compared with the two years immediately preceding. The yield of crops was also very poor. Except in the districts of Mysore and Shimoga, the outturn of paddy was less than 8 annas and in Kolar and Tumkur it was much less than 4 annas, a normal crop being reckoned at 16 annas. Ragi was nowhere over a 6½-anna crop and was very much less than a 4-anna crop in the Tumkur district. The jola crop was also equally poor. The prices of food grains rose higher than ever ranging up to 30 per cent and more above the high level of 1905-06 and causing hardship not only to the poor labouring and landless classes, but also to the bulk of the small landholders and agriculturists who had no stock of grain to fall back upon. The industrial classes, the artisans and weavers, the latter in particular, found the market for their products contracted. There was difficulty for drinking water also and a serious water famine had to be faced. Fodder for cattle became scarce and cattle disease prevailed in a serious and epidemic form in various parts of the State. The result was that distress of a severe type prevailed over an area of nearly 7,870 square miles with a population of 1,378,000. The number of villages affected was 5,615. This state of things lasted for some months and would have developed into one of the most serious and wide-spread famines that ever afflicted the land, had the hot weather rains and the south-west monsoon of 1909 also unfortunately failed. But as you know we have, by God's grace, been spared this misfortune.

Administrative preparations.

4. I shall now proceed to indicate briefly the various measures adopted to grapple with the situation. Early in the year, as soon as the conditions justified apprehension, the Revenue Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioners of districts undertook frequent tours throughout their charges, watched the situation with care, and submitted to Government a forecast of all such measures as appeared necessary. The Dewan, Mr. Madhava Rao, also toured more than once through the affected tracts and kept himself in close touch with the various officers charged with the conduct of relief operations. And, above all, His Highness the Maharaja, with his usual solicitude for the welfare of his subjects, himself undertook a tour through the affected parts and eventually abandoned a long-cherished wish to visit Japan in company with his brother, a visit which had been arranged before the situation had assumed a grave aspect. Conferences were also held from time to time with the Deputy Commissioners of districts and heads of departments. As a result the following measures of relief were adopted.

Measures of Relief.

5. Allowances were sanctioned to minor public servants on account of the high prices of food grains and provision was made for dispensing gratuitous relief to the aged and the infirm.

6. Tank beds were thrown open for cultivation on favourable terms to increase the local food-supply, as soon as signs of distress were perceived.

7. Nearly a lakh of rupees was spent on the construction of drinking water wells and on other works of general utility and another lakh on account of stone and masonry work to minor tanks. In the execution of departmental works, the Public Works Department was instructed to employ local labour as far as possible, expeditious completion of work being regarded as of minor importance. A large number of Amrit Mahal Kavals and State Forests were thrown open for free grazing and suitable arrangements were made for providing water and other facilities for cattle and their owners in those places. The Forest Department was instructed to cut and stock jungle grass at convenient centres for being sent on to places where a demand for it existed. Permission was given to ryots to cut and utilize for fodder date leaves from Government waste lands Arrangements were made with the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway authorities for reducing the railway charges on fodder imported into the affected tracts. Liberal grants were provided for advances on account of takavi and land improvements and for earth-work to restored and unrestored tanks. Under takavi, a sum of more than Rs. 1,80,000 was disbursed as advances under section 194 of the Land Revenue Code for the purchase of bullocks, fodder, seed-grains, etc., and for subsistence. A sum of nearly 2 lakhs of rupees was spent on land improvement loans, the bulk of which was utilized for the construction of irrigation wells, while advances for earth-work and repairs of tanks amounted to nearly Rs. 60,000.

8. By way of special relief to weavers who were hard pressed owing to slackness of demand for their goods caused by the distress, a sum of about Rs. 40,000 was given for the purchase by Government of the cloths manufactured by them or as advances for buying yarn.

9. Arrangements were made to procure and stock nearly Rs. 4,000 worth of selected seed ragi for supply to needy ryots at cost price so that they might be ready to avail themselves of any rain that came.

Remissions and suspensions of revenue.

10. Government decided to forego the grazing fees (hulbanni) in the affected areas and the mohatarfa tax in the case of a large number of non-agriculturists who were paying a tax of 8 annas and less. Half the assessment on all wet lands which did not yield a crop of more than 25 per cent of the normal was remitted and similarly the collection of half the assessment was postponed in the case of dry lands which failed to yield more than 25 per cent of the normal crop.

11. The seasonal outlook began to improve gradually from April last when there were a few very welcome showers of rain; and in the month of May there was good rainfall amounting to 6·42 inches as against 3·50 in the previous year. This was, however, followed by an inconvenient break which caused some anxiety. The months of June and July closed with an average of 5·35 and 10·02 inches respectively. In August, September and October the rainfall has been very favourable and far in excess of the average. There is thus no longer any necessity for the continuance of relief measures except possibly gratuitous doles to the needy and infirm until the next harvest and the grant of loans for the completion of tanks and irrigation wells, etc., where necessary. In carrying on relief operations, it was noticeable that although there was distress in many parts of the State by the end of November 1908, people would not go on to test works to earn the subsistence wages allowed under the Famine Code and subject themselves to what are commonly known as the wage test and the distance test. To what extent this was due to the self-respecting character of the Mysore ryot, to his social and economic condition and staying power fostered by favourable land settlements and liberal outlay on public works and railways in the past, or to other causes, it is for the student of the economics of the State to adjudge. Suffice it here to say that to provide the means of subsistence for the needy and to prevent their wandering away from their homes, Government were obliged to arrange for works near their villages for them. The wages payable were the usual market rates for unskilled labour, sometimes slightly lowered so as not to withdraw men from their ordinary avocations or from employment by private agencies. This relieved Government from the necessity for having recourse to expensive famine projects with all their attendant risks and demoralising results. At the same time large works of public utility were held in readiness against eventualities.

12. The works that were undertaken, as has already been observed, were mainly the repairs of minor tanks, the construction of drinking water wells, for which there was urgent need everywhere, and other works of sanitary improvement and of general utility. Several of these works would have had to be carried out even under ordinary circumstances in the near future, and the fact of their having been taken up during the scarcity merely led to a slight anticipation of expenditure without involving a large additional outlay on account of relief measures. In addition to these works undertaken at Government expense, private works were also encouraged by the grant of loans to ryots to enable them to effect land improvements of various kinds and to fulfil their obligations in regard to tank maintenance. In this way the situation was tided over by a programme alike of State agency works and of Private agency works.

13. Six hundred and sixteen tanks including the incomplete works of the previous year were taken up, and of these 186 were completed at a cost of nearly Rs. 1,24,000. A sum of Rs. 56,791 was advanced to ryots for the repair and maintenance of tanks and an expenditure of Rs. 97,989 was incurred by Government on masonry and stone work for tanks. The Public Works Department spent Rs. 57,702 on its ordinary works towards the relief of distress and a sum of Rs. 97,893 was spent on the construction of drinking water wells and on other works of general utility.

14. Local officers were careful to start gratuitous relief at an earlier stage than perhaps the strict letter of the Famine Code would have warranted, in order that the old, the infirm and the crippled as well as indigent gosha women, who would not appear in public, might not starve themselves or be a burden to their able-bodied relations who would otherwise have had to support them. The total expenditure on this account was Rs. 24,516 and the largest number of persons in receipt of gratuitous relief at any time was 4,859 in the first half of March.

Private Charity.

15. Acknowledgment is here due of the considerable help afforded by organized private charity in several parts of the State in affording relief to the poor. In Bangalore, a Relief Committee was formed consisting mostly of the leading merchants of the City to sell ragi in small quantities to poor people at a rate appreciably cheaper than the prevailing market rate, the loss being met by public subscriptions which the Committee collected. It is estimated that nearly 30,000 persons were benefited by this measure. Similar attempts on a smaller scale were made in several other district and taluk head-quarters.

16. This campaign against the distress was conducted under His Highness the Maharaja's guidance by the administration presided over by the late Dewan Mr. V. P. Madhava Rao, C.I.E., who, if he were here, would be the first to acknowledge his obligations to Rajakarya-pravina Mr. A. Rangaswami Iyengar, who as Revenue Commissioner has had to bear the brunt of the situation. The Government were also ably and ungrudgingly served by the Deputy Commissioners of the districts affected, notably by Mr. Srikanteswara Iyer of Kolar, Mr. Doraswami Iyer of Tumkur and Mr. Chengiah Chetty of Chitaldrug, and in a minor degree, because only small parts of their respective districts were affected, by Mr. Kantaraj Urs of Mysore and Mr. Kumaraswami Naik of Bangalore. Reviewing the past, His Highness the Maharaja is satisfied that the measures adopted for the relief of distress were adequate and timely.

FINANCE.

17. I now come to the subject of the finances of the State; but before entering into details, I may refer to the action recently taken by Government in publishing the detailed budget of the year in the Government Gazette. The budget has thus been before the public for over a month and a half, and I have no doubt you have all studied it with interest and care.

Accounts for 1907-08.

18. We take up first the finances of the year 1907-08, the latest year for which final accounts have been prepared. Financially, that year was prosperous beyond expectation. The estimates of that year provided for a surplus of Rs. 14,07,000 on the year's transactions including those relating to the Cauvery Power Scheme, the Famine Insurance and the Sinking Fund for the 20-lakhs loan. But the actual revenue was altogether Rs. 15,32,694 higher than the estimate, and the expenditure was Rs. 42,320 less than the estimate, so that the actual savings of the year amounted to Rs. 29,82,014 instead of the expected Rs. 14,07,000. Out of this were provided the usual famine insurance of two lakhs and Rs. 1,33,333 for the redemption of the 4 per cent loan of 20 lakhs raised for the third installation of the Cauvery Power Scheme, both of which, you will find in the statement A presented to you, are debited as expenditure. The surplus of the year thus amounted to Rs. 26,48,681 as shown in the statement.

Budget of 1908-09.

19. The estimates of the year 1908-09 provided for a revenue of Rs. 228·15 lakhs and an expenditure of Rs. 213·89 lakhs, leaving a surplus of Rs. 14·26 lakhs.

20. These estimates were based on the expectation of normal times. But as we know, the year turned out to be a bad one. The revised estimates thus show considerable variations from the original budget. Owing to remissions and suspensions of revenue, the revised estimate under Land Revenue had to be taken at Rs. 89 lakhs, instead of the original estimate of Rs. 100 lakhs, and the collections under Mohatarfa or assessed taxes had to be taken at Rs. 2 lakhs against the original estimate of Rs. 3·18 lakhs. There was a falling off of a little more than one lakh under Forests owing to the smaller demand for sandalwood. On the other hand, however, there were increases of revenue under some heads, such as Rs. 2·76 lakhs under Excise, Rs. 78,000 under Stamps and Registration, Rs. 70,000 under Mining Royalty, Rs. 30,000 under Interest and Rs. 2·61 lakhs under Railways.

21. As a result of these and other variations, the revenue of 1908-09 stood, according to the revised estimates, at Rs. 222·46 lakhs against the budget figure of Rs. 228·15 lakhs, or at Rs. 5·69 lakhs less.

22. The scarcity had also its disturbing influences on the expenditure of the year, and would have had the effect of largely increasing the actual expenditure above the estimated figure; but as soon as it was apprehended that a large expenditure might become necessary during the course of the year to cope with the distress, the extent of which could not then be gauged with any precision, energetic steps were taken for securing the strictest economy in all departments of the State.

23. The relief of distress necessitated direct expenditure on establishments, drinking water wells, gratuitous relief, the supply of fodder, the relief of weavers, etc., to the extent of Rs. 1,33,000 against a sanctioned grant of Rs. 2,47,000. There was also an indirect expenditure of Rs. 2,11,000 on special allowances to minor public servants owing to the dearness of food grains and on public works against a sanctioned grant of Rs. 3·88 lakhs. The total expenditure was thus Rs. 3·44 lakhs. Loans and advances amounting to Rs. 3·80 lakhs were also given, but they do not affect the budget. Though considerable additional expenditure was thus incurred in connection with the scarcity, the total expenditure of the year according to the revised estimates was only Rs. 212·94 lakhs against the budget figure of Rs. 213·89 lakhs or Rs. 95,000 less. Almost all the departments of the State contributed to this economy, but there is no denying the fact that much useful and necessary work had on that account to be postponed.

24. The savings of the year thus amounted to only 9·52 lakhs against the expected surplus of 14·26 lakhs. As I have already indicated, it was the exercise of strict economy wherever possible, coupled with the fortunate increase of revenue in certain departments that helped the State to tide over a very trying year without incurring a large deficit.

25. This saving of Rs. 9½ lakhs does not, however, appear as a surplus in the budget but has been used to meet the charges on account of the Sinking Fund (Rs. 1,33,000), the Famine Insurance Reserve (Rs. 2 lakhs) and the Cauvery Power Scheme Depreciation Fund (Rs. 6,19,000). The revised budget of 1908-09 therefore is exactly balanced and shows neither a deficit nor a surplus.

Budget for 1909-10.

26. We shall now turn to the budget estimates for the current year 1909-10. The agricultural prospects of the year are very hopeful and form a happy contrast to those of the last year. There is every reason to hope that the year will be one of rather more than average outturn of crops, justifying a reasonable expectation of the current demand on account of the land revenue being realised in addition to the whole of the suspended revenue of the last year.

27. The total revenue of the current year is estimated at Rs. 232·93 lakhs and the total expenditure at Rs. 220·42 lakhs. The difference of Rs. 12·51 lakhs between revenue and expenditure is proposed to be distributed as follows :—

	Rs.
To Sinking Fund for the 4 per cent loan	1,33,000
To Famine Insurance Reserve	2,00,000
To Cauvery Power Scheme Depreciation Fund, contribution for 1909-10 ...	3,09,000
To arrears of Cauvery Power Scheme Depreciation Fund	5,54,000
To Budget Surplus	55,000
Total	12,51,000

28. Under expenditure, the allotment for Education has been increased by a lakh of rupees for additional grants to aided schools, for increased staff for Government schools and for adapting the colleges to the new regulations of the University. The organisation of the Public Health Department chiefly accounts for the increase in the Medical budget. A sum of 3 lakhs has been provided for capital expenditure on Railways on account of new engines, rolling stock, etc.

29. An important change has been made in the system of accounts for the Cauvery Power Scheme by keeping them substantially on commercial lines and by opening a Depreciation Fund Account which would show the true measure of profit accruing to Government from the concern. The Depreciation Fund will be fully brought up to date by the end of 1910-11, and from that fund will be met the cost of the heavy renewals of machinery, etc., which will become necessary in a few years.

30. The Public Works grant for the year has been fixed at Rs. 28·21 lakhs from State Funds, and out of this, provision has been made for several useful works such as the construction and improvement of important irrigation works, like the Hemagiri and Mandigiri channels, the construction of public buildings like Taluk Cutcheries at Chitaldrug and Honnali, a Sandal Koti at Shimoga, the Chamarajendra Technical Institute at Mysore, an Eye Infirmary at Bangalore, and the execution of some important sanitary projects such as water-supply projects for Shimoga and Mudgere.

31. I may also mention that besides the expenditure above referred to from General Revenues, a sum of over 3½ lakhs of rupees is to be spent on primary education from the Village School Fund, a sum of over three-fourths of a lakh on technical education from Local Funds General and a sum of two lakhs on minor irrigation works from the Irrigation Cess Fund.

General Financial Position.

32. Before concluding this portion of the Address, I may invite your attention to a comparison of the assets and liabilities of the State as they stood in 1902 and as they now stand. Such a comparison is presented in the statement marked B which is placed in your hands. You will observe therefrom that the excess of assets over liabilities which stood at Rs. 44·86 lakhs in 1902 has now risen to Rs. 104·22 lakhs. This last-mentioned figure includes, of course, the Cauvery Power Scheme Depreciation Fund and the Famine Reserve which we have been putting by year by year. It is needless to add that the capital value of the large Public Works, Railways, Irrigation Works and the Cauvery Power Scheme on which the State has incurred large outlay are not reckoned here nor indeed that part of the loans and advances given by Government and included among the assets which may hereafter prove to be irrecoverable. On the whole, I trust that the financial position of the State will appear to be safe and sound.

The Accounts Department.

33. During the year several improvements were effected in the working of the Accounts Department. In connection with the scarcity, a Famine Accounts and Audit Manual was drawn up and a staff of accountants was trained in the system. An arrangement was made for the speedy grant of anticipatory pensions to Government servants to prevent hardship in cases where the verification of services and the final settlement of pensions would involve delay. Proposals were elaborated for the organisation of a department of local audit to scrutinise the accounts of District, Municipal and other Local Funds. A Treasury Manual for Mysore to supplement the provisions of the British Indian Civil Account Code and adapt the same to the requirements of the State was under preparation and the compilation of a Public Works Manual was also taken up.

34. Railway accounts received special attention, and at the instance of the Durbar, the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company have agreed to a periodical examination of the accounts of the Mysore State Railways by the Durbar officers.

The Retrenchment Committee.

35. The proposals of the Retrenchment Committee in regard to the Geological and Public Works Departments and the establishments of Travellers' Bungalows were dealt with during the year. It was found impossible to reduce the expenditure of the Geological Department by more than Rs. 1,000 a year; but the proposals in regard to Travellers' Bungalows are expected to result in a saving of Rs. 8,700 a year. In the Public Works Department the changes to be made are somewhat extensive, and, when fully carried out, will result in a reduction of expenditure to the extent of nearly Rs. 1,35,000 a year, the reduction being mainly based upon the idea of a reduced normal grant for expenditure on Public Works. The Committee is now dealing with the Education Department and with the Travelling Allowance Rules.

State Life Insurance.

36. The State Life Insurance Fund did good business, and at the close of the year there were in force 11,717 policies held by 6,417 persons assuring a bonus of 59¼ lakhs of rupees for a monthly premium of Rs. 20,500. The balance at the credit of the fund increased from 16½ lakhs to 18 lakhs of rupees.

LEGISLATION.

The Legislative Council.

37. The Legislative Council met four times during the year and 14 bills engaged its attention. In addition to the bills that were passed into law, the Poisons Bill, the Village Tank Panchayet Bill, the Treasure Trove Bill and the Chief Court Regulation Amendment Bill were under consideration during the year. Other important measures such as the amendment of the Code of Civil Procedure, the consolidation and amendment of the Law of Limitation, the Insolvency Bill and the consolidation and amendment of the law relating to Guardians and Wards have been taken up for consideration during the past few months of the current year.

Regulations passed.

38. Seven Regulations were passed in all during the year, viz. :—

(1) A Regulation to amend the Mysore Stamp Regulation.

(2) The Mysore Newspapers Regulation.

(3) The Mysore Village Offices Regulation.

(4) The Mysore Police Regulation.

(5) A Regulation to amend the Mysore Registration Regulation.

(6) A Regulation to further amend the Mysore Land Revenue Code.

(7) A Regulation to further amend the City of Mysore Improvement Regulation.

39. The first of these brings the Stamp Law in Mysore into line with the Stamp Law of British India. The only important provision which deserves special mention is that leaving a discretion to the Deputy Commissioner as to the amount of fine to be levied on insufficiently stamped documents.

The Mysore Newspapers Regulation.

40. The Mysore Newspapers Regulation was passed with the object of exercising an effective control over a section of the Public Press in the State which had for some time previously been creating much mischief by wantonly misrepresenting the views, actions and motives of the Governments, both of the State and of British India, and indulging in remarks calculated to produce racial hatred and to mislead the people of Mysore and prejudice them against the Paramount Power.

41. The Regulation requires every printer, publisher and editor of a newspaper to obtain the permission of the Government before starting a newspaper and provides for such permission being withdrawn at any time by Government. Certain penalties are also provided for the cases in which papers are published without permission or after such permission has been revoked.

42. The Regulation has worked satisfactorily. It is essentially a preventive measure, and it has not been found necessary to put any of its penal provisions in motion. In the case of only one newspaper, which though published in the Mysore State has a small circulation elsewhere, has it been necessary to take any action at all, and in that case a warning has been communicated to the editor of the paper.

43. The Mysore Village Offices Regulation consolidates and amends the law relating to Village Offices. The desirability of such an enactment has long been recognized. The present Regulation is based on the Madras Act III of 1895. It introduces no radical change in the existing system but adheres, as far as possible, to the traditions of the Mysore Village Service with only just such modifications as are necessary to improve the efficiency of that service.

44. Its principal features are that,

(1) it prescribes the qualifications required for the five principal village offices of patel, shanbog, toti

talavar and nirganti, and regulates their appointment, removal and punishment in both alienated and unalienated villages;

(2) it abolishes the inefficient and inconvenient practice of two or more hakdars of one office doing the duties jointly or by turns; and,

(3) while recognising the hereditary character of these offices, it abolishes the practice of registering the offices of patel and shanbog in the names of females, though it does not take away the right of succession of males through females.

45. The Mysore Police Regulation unifies the law relating to an important branch of the public service. The Regulation is based on the Bombay Act IV of 1890, suitably modified to meet local conditions. The control of the Deputy Commissioner and the Amildar over the District and Taluk Police is maintained. The provisions of Act III of 1867—the Public Gambling Act—are also incorporated in the Regulation.

46. The other Regulations do not call for any detailed notice on this occasion.

Rules under Regulations.

47. In order to enable landowners to effectually protect their crops from the ravages of wild beasts, rules were framed under the Game and Fish Preservation Regulation to grant to landholders in certain malnad tracts a license to pursue and kill game within a specified area near their holdings on a reduced fee of Rs. 2 per annum.

48. Under the Excise Regulation, rules were framed for the retail vend of the special liquors manufactured in the Government Central Distillery, Bangalore, and to regulate the sale of Cocaine and Novocaine.

49. Rules were framed under the Municipal Regulation of 1906, fixing the number of members in each Municipality and regulating the conduct of elections where the elective system was introduced.

50. Under the Forest Regulation, rules were issued defining the privileges of ryots in the malnad in regard to the use of forest produce.

51. Rules were issued under the Criminal Procedure Code for the guidance of Benches of Magistrates.

52. The rules regarding sandal on private lands and the rules for prospecting and mining in State Forests will be referred to later on in the Address.

53. The rules for the grant of loans under the Land Improvement Loans Regulation and for other agricultural purposes under section 194 of the Land Revenue Code were revised and consolidated. The powers of sanction of the Revenue Commissioner and of Deputy and Assistant Commissioners were increased, and Amildars and Deputy Amildars were also empowered to grant loans. The procedure in respect of the grant of loans was simplified with a view to facilitate the speedy disposal of applications, and the grant of small loans after summary enquiry by Assistant Commissioners was also authorised. The revision of the rules on these lines enabled the local officers to deal promptly with the large demand for loans during the distress.

Bills under consideration.

54. Of the bills before the Legislative Council, the revision of the Civil Procedure Code on the lines of the British Indian Act V of 1908 is an important and necessary measure. In the new bill the insolvency provisions of the old Code find no place and to supply the want a new Insolvency Bill has been taken up for consideration. The Guardian and Wards Bill is also an important measure intended to remedy the defects in the present law on the subject.

55. The Village Tank Panchayet Bill is still before the select committee and is undergoing careful consideration. The Treasure Trove Bill has been finally considered by the Legislative Council, though it has not yet been formally passed.

56. While on the subject of legislation, I must briefly refer to the draft regulation prepared in 1905 for the removal of religious and caste disabilities. You will remember that the draft was published for general information and numerous representations, both for and against, but chiefly against, the introduction of the draft regulation were received by the Government. The question formed the subject of discussion in this Assembly in the year 1906, and, as the general sentiment of the Assembly was against the passing of the proposed measure, and, as there was at that time no Legislative Council to deal with it, the Government resolved to defer any further action in the matter. The subject has recently been again brought into prominence, and a deputation of Mission bodies waited on His Highness the Maharaja in March last and submitted a memorial. It is the intention of the present Government to carry to its logical conclusion the action taken by their predecessors, that is to say, to place the draft regulation before the Legislative Council, and to leave it to that body to decide whether the proposed legislation is really called for. This course will ensure a full public discussion of an important question.

THE LAND REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

The Revenue Commissioner.

57. We shall now turn to the administration of the Revenue Department. Under a Government Order issued in September 1906, the Revenue Commissioner was declared responsible, until and unless the appointment of a special Famine Commissioner should become necessary for all measures to be adopted under the Famine Code both by way of preparation against famine and for the purpose of affording relief when distress developed into famine. In pursuance of this arrangement, in September 1908, when the seasonal conditions were threatening, the Revenue Commissioner undertook the chief executive control over Famine Administration in all its stages and the proper enforcement of the provisions of the Famine Code. Later on the work in connection with the distress increased largely and it was found necessary to relieve the Revenue Commissioner of some of his ordinary work so as to enable him to devote undivided attention to measures necessary for coping with the agricultural situation.

The Shekdari School.

58. The Shekdari School continued to do good work during the year. Its fourth session commenced in July 1908, and came to a close in the following December. The school had to be finally closed at the end of the fourth session as there was not among the old Shekdars a sufficient number of properly qualified men capable of receiving training. It is proposed to recruit the Shekdari service in the future from among the men who successfully pass out of the Government Engineering School at Mysore or the Rai Bahadur Arcot Narainswami Moodaliar's School at Bangalore. The total number of men trained in the Shekdari School from the commencement is 168, of whom 4 are Sanitary Inspectors and 133 are employed as Shekdars.

Sorting of Records.

59. The work of sorting vernacular records in district and taluk offices was continued during the year under report. The sorting rules are now fairly well understood by record-keepers and most of them are working with earnestness and on correct lines. But frequent and effective supervision on the part of the local and district Inspecting Officers is essential as well for the work being brought to a speedy termination as for the satisfactory maintenance of records in the future. It is rather dull and uninteresting work, but special attention to it is essential for the correct and speedy disposal of all kinds of official business.

The Revenue and Agricultural Gazette.

60. The Revenue and Agricultural Gazette is now running through its third year and its continuance has been sanctioned for a further period of three years. The journal had a circulation of 756 copies on the 1st July 1909 exclusive of the 550 copies sent free to Government officials and others. Six supplements were issued on the following subjects :—

1. Handbook of Famine Administration.
2. Sericulture.
3. Cattle and Fodder.
4. Treatment for Bites by Rabid Animals.
5. Agricultural Associations.
6. Land Improvement Loans Rules.

61. In pursuance of representations made at the last year's Representative Assembly, 200 copies of the journal are being circulated free to certain Middle and Primary schools through the Inspector-General of Education. It is hoped that this experiment will lead to a wide diffusion of valuable information on agricultural matters among the ryot population. The concession will be extended to village schools also, should the results of the present experiment fulfil the expectations of Government.

THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

62. Experiments were carried on in the Hebbal Experimental Farm in regard to the use of green manures for ragi, the culture and manuring of paddy, its rotation with Bengal gram, the cultivation of sugar-cane throughout the year, and its cultivation in rotation with paddy, ground-nut and Bengal gram. The results are not yet available but will be published in due course. Trials were also made with varieties of paddy and sugar-cane.

63. The Revenue Commissioner obtained and distributed to landholders for trial some varieties of paddy, ground-nuts and grass-seed. He also arranged for the exhibition, demonstration and supply of certain agricultural implements. Trial plantations of mulberry have been started on some lands under the Marikanave tank.

64. A demonstration of sugar-making was held on the Hebbal farm and the use of the centrifugal machine was shown, as was also the use of a series of rectangular pans for boiling the juice with regulated heat. The sugar produced was whiter than any locally refined article sold in the market. The molasses was also converted into a fair quality of jaggory. These demonstrations were well attended by the agricultural population. A popular bulletin on sugar-cane and sugar-making based on the results obtained by the department is under preparation and will be shortly published in English and Kanarese.

65. There was a demand for improved agricultural implements tried on the Farm and it is intended to make demonstrations of such instruments in the mofussil districts also. In the laboratory, experiments and analyses connected with green manure, sugar-cane, coffee, and soils and soil-moisture were conducted.

Mycology.

66. The chief subject of Mycological investigation was the Koleroga of supari. The Mycologist made extensive tours in the affected regions and conducted experiments in the Sagar and Tirthahalli taluks and the Yedahalli sub-taluk. A small temporary laboratory was set up at Talaguppa in the Sagar taluk for the ready investigation of the disease. The full results will take some more time to be published but it is already clear that the disease can be profitably controlled by the spraying method. A special spray was used which was comparatively cheap and which worked in a most satisfactory manner.

67. The ring disease of potatoes was investigated and it was found that the disease was due to bacteria and not to fungi as was hitherto supposed. A preliminary bulletin on the subject has been recently published. The anabe disease of areca and a leaf disease of the betel-vine are also being studied and the spike disease of sandal has been taken up in a preliminary manner.

68. In the Entomological branch, a large number of insects have been collected and their life-history is being studied. Attention is being paid to two pests, the rice grass-hopper which has been doing great damage to paddy in the Sorab taluk and a hairy caterpillar (kumbli hula). A few months hence, it is intended to hold popular lectures on fungus and insect pests in various parts of the State. The lectures will be illustrated with lantern slides and it is hoped that by this means greater interest than exists at present will be aroused among the ryots in regard to these matters.

Cattle Shows.

69. Owing to the prevalence of cattle diseases and the scarcity, cattle shows were held only in a few places such as Chunchunkatte, Hemagiri and Ghati Subramanya.

The Dasara Exhibition.

70. The second Dasara Exhibition of Agricultural and Industrial products was held in October last and was largely attended. The third Exhibition is now going on.

The Civil Veterinary Department.

71. There were 8 veterinary hospitals and dispensaries working at the end of the year, one at the head-quarters of each of the districts. Two more will be started in January next. In all 5,805 animals were treated in these institutions. The Inspector of Cattle Diseases and the Assistant Veterinary Inspectors did excellent out-door work to combat and minimize the ravages of the epidemics of cattle disease which prevailed in the year under review. More than 14,000 head of cattle were inoculated with serum kindly supplied by the Imperial Bacteriologist from the Muktesar Laboratory. The growing popularity of this protective measure was very noticeable.

Agricultural Banks.

72. The Agricultural Banks, I regret to say, are fast disappearing owing chiefly to apathy and want of business habits and public spirit on the part of the managing members. Six banks were wound up during the year, leaving 22 in existence at the end of the year. Only three of them can be said to have done any business worth mentioning and only the Nanjangud bank has continued working with its own funds after repaying the Government loan.

73. A sum of Rs. 80,000 was recovered from the banks—those existing as well as those under liquidation—towards the Government loan and interest thereon. Owing to the general distress in the State, repayments were allowed to be postponed in several cases.

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES.

74. In pleasing contrast with the Agricultural Banks, considerable progress was made in the organization of Co-operative Societies. Their number increased from 27 to 45, the number of members from 2,451 to 4,481 and the paid up share capital from Rs. 57,000 to Rs. 1,05,000. The deposits by members increased from Rs. 6,300 to Rs. 12,700, indicating the growing confidence in these associations. The societies advanced a sum of Rs. 2¼ lakhs in cash loans to members, of which Rs. 2 lakhs were repaid during the year. Of the 45 societies, 19 were rural agricultural societies, 12 were concerned in granting loans and supplying provisions and 8 were industrial institutions. Of these last, 6 dealt with weaving, one with silk-reeling and one with the lacquer-work industry. The Co-operative movement has now become known all over the State, and popular interest in it appears to be spreading. Much, however, still depends on individual initiative and interest and for a considerable time to come, the societies will need the support and fostering care of intelligent and public-spirited men. This lesson has been emphasized during the year by the dissolution of the Mayasandra Grain Bank in the Anekal taluk, which had to be wound up for want of an efficient Secretary, the former Secretary having unfortunately succumbed to plague.

75. It is a matter for congratulation that the movement has received the active support and keen sympathy of several retired officers of Government, among whom special mention may be made of Rajamantrapravina Mr. C. Sreenivasiengar, retired Councillor, Mr. M. S. Narayan

Rao, retired Deputy Commissioner, and Mr. C. D. Ramaswamaiya, retired Superintendent of Police, the last of whom has rendered himself particularly useful in connection with mofussil societies.

76. With the support of the two gentlemen first named, a Central Co-operative Bank has been started in Bangalore for supplying funds to the various outlying societies, and His Highness the Maharaja has been graciously pleased to lodge a fixed deposit in this Bank to mark his appreciation of its usefulness.

77. Recently Mr. R. Ranga Rao, B.A., B.L., an intelligent young man in the service of the State, has been sent to England with a scholarship from the Damodar Das Fund to go through a course of Economics with special reference to Co-operative Credit and to study types of such institutions on the continent of Europe where the movement has achieved important success.

REVENUE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT.

78. During the year, re-survey operations were carried on in the taluks of Nagar, Thirthalli, Chicknayakanhalli, Tarikere and (old) Banavara, over an area of 1,100 square miles. The re-classification of wet and garden lands in regard to water-supply was done in the Maddagiri, Thirthalli and Nagar taluks and in the Koratgere sub-taluk.

79. The revision settlement of the Shikarpur taluk was brought into effect during the year resulting in a slight increase in the average wet and dry rates with a large decrease in the average garden rate. Proposals for the revision of the Sira and Pavagada taluks have recently been sanctioned by Government and those for the Tumkur taluk are under consideration.

80. The Inam Department was engaged as usual in issuing final quit-rent registers and title-deeds.

Registration.

81. There was a substantial increase in the number of documents registered and in the revenue of the Registration Department. There were 116 joint stock and other companies at the beginning of the year. Four new companies were registered during the year and 33 were wound up, leaving 87 working at the end of the year.

Stamps.

82. The revenue from stamps rose by nearly Rs. 50,000 and reached Rs. 8½ lakhs, the highest figure on record.

EXCISE.

83. During the year several minor administrative measures were adopted to bring the trade in liquor under proper control and to improve the efficiency of the Excise Department. The salary of the poorly paid Vottu Mutsaddis or excise clerks in taluk offices was raised, and the opening of a training school for excise officials was sanctioned.

84. The revenue of the department was Rs. 43,62,000 as against Rs. 41,83,000 in 1907-08 and was the highest on record. The increase was due to greater competition in the auction sales and the larger number of trees tapped for toddy.

85. This increase in a year of agricultural distress has been interpreted in some quarters as indicating a great spread of drunkenness among the people. Judging from the statistics of consumption, however, it is seen that the consumption of country spirits was 407,727 gallons in 1908-09 against 409,403 gallons in the previous year, showing a real though slight decrease. Consumption decreased in the districts of Kolar, Tumkur, Shimoga and Chitaldrug and in five taluks of the Mysore district—the areas most touched by the agricultural distress. The other districts showed an increase in consumption. The increase in Kadur was partly due to the rigorous suppression of illicit distillation.

86. There was an increase of 29,000 trees tapped for toddy, but this, it is understood, was due to the smaller yield from each tree owing to the drought. In 1907-08, as you are aware, the tree-tax on toddy trees was slightly enhanced. One effect of the measure was a large fall in the shop rental owing to uncertainty about the effect on consumption, but in 1908-09 competition was very keen and the shop rental rose by more than a lakh of rupees.

87. The consumption of beer and foreign liquor also diminished considerably. There was a large increase in the consumption of ganja.

88. During the year there was a decrease in the number of all kinds of liquor and drug shops, the total number being 4,762 against 4,962 in the previous year, a reduction of 200.

89. It will thus be seen that the increase of revenue has been obtained not by any encouragement of drinking but by more careful and effective management.

FORESTS.

90. An aggregate area of 73 square miles was notified as State Forest during the year, and an area of 145 square miles selected for reservation and special protection. Attention was paid to the improvement of communications in forests and to the construction of the necessary building accommodation for subordinates and inspecting officers. The work of forest survey and demarcation made satisfactory progress.

Forest Settlement operations.

91. Mr. M. Shama Rao, the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, continued as Forest Settlement Officer in addition to his other duties. The number of blocks pending settlement at the beginning of the year and the number notified during the year were 21 and 22 respectively. Two blocks were settled, leaving a balance of 41 blocks remaining at the close of the year. In order to secure better progress, it has been decided to revive the appointment of a wholetime officer for this work.

92. Out of 2,545 square miles of State Forests, an area of 2,072 square miles or 81 per cent was successfully protected from fire.

93. The receipts from timber were Rs. 4,63,000 or Rs. 27,000 more than in the previous year. The collection of sandalwood was as usual confined to over-mature trees. A sum of only 9¼ lakhs of rupees was realized from the sale of sandalwood during the year as against Rs. 14,20,000 in the previous year. The quantity sold and the rates obtained were much less than in previous years. Though the revenue from sandalwood fell far short of the budget estimate, other subordinate heads showed a satisfactory increase. The surplus revenue of the department during the year was Rs. 10¾ lakhs against Rs. 16¼ lakhs in 1907-08 and against Rs. 10¼ lakhs, the average of the preceding five years.

94. With a view to reduce the cost of extraction of timber in the malnad forests and to facilitate the transport of heavy logs which could not be carried by the ordinary bullock carts, a road train consisting of a traction engine and three waggons was purchased and used in the Shimoga and Kadur districts. The train has been found satisfactory and another has been ordered.

95. The concessions granted by Government in February 1908 with the object of inducing kunbis accustomed to kumri cultivation to settle down as regular agriculturists have been taken advantage of by several families and the scheme gives every promise of success.

Sandalwood in Private lands.

96. In connection with sandalwood an important step has been taken by Government with a view to enlist the sympathies and the co-operation of the ryot in the protection of this most valuable product of the State. As you are aware, sandal is and has long been a monopoly of the State, and holders of all lands on which it grows are bound to protect it and abstain from injuring it under certain penalties. The land-holder has also no adequate facilities for securing the removal of any tree which is obstructive to cultivation or other lawful use of his land.

97. The evils of the system have formed the subject of frequent representations in this Assembly and have engaged the attention of successive administrators for the past nearly 40 years. In 1875 orders were actually passed for ryots being awarded a percentage of the value of sandal trees felled on their lands by Government, but the practical difficulties encountered in carrying out the orders were regarded as insuperable and the scheme never came into operation. Various remedies were proposed from time to time, but no practical action was taken.

98. In 1907 the subject was again taken up and it was felt that the difficulties of procedure attendant on the scheme should not be allowed to stand permanently in the way of a measure the desirability of which had so long been recognised. The question was thoroughly discussed in all its aspects in consultation with Government officers and others, and the opinion elicited was almost unanimous that it would be both a gracious concession and good policy to give the ryot a share in the value of the trees growing on his land and to afford him facilities for the lawful removal of trees obstructing the legitimate use of the land. It was decided that a bonus should be given to the land-holder for every mature tree removed from his holding. A simple scale of values based on the girth of the tree was adopted for the purpose of computing the bonus. Facilities were also provided for the removal of trees at the desire of the land-holder, subject to the recovery of a small compensation in the case of immature trees. This levy of compensation is meant chiefly to discourage unnecessary applications and certain officers have been given the discretion to waive it.

99. It is hoped that these concessions will mitigate to a substantial extent the rigour of the Government monopoly and encourage land-holders to co-operate with Government in the propagation and preservation of sandal trees in the State.

GEOLOGICAL AND MINING.

100. The decline in activity in mining and prospecting which was noticed in 1907-08 continued during 1908-09 also, chiefly because of the low price of manganese and chrome which were the ores that had attracted public attention. In consequence, only 131 licenses and leases were issued and renewed during the year as against 204 in 1907-08.

101. One of the leases was for a mica block in the Seringapatam taluk and was the first lease granted for this mineral in Mysore. The results of prospecting were satisfactory and the mining lessees are a body of wealthy and influential gentlemen of Bombay with ample resources for carrying on mining operations.

Gold.

102. Of the Gold Fields of Kolar, the Mysore, Ooregum, Nandidrug and Champion Reef Mines are the chief gold producers. In regard to the Champion Reef, the anticipated improvement has not yet taken place, though favourable signs are not wanting. A serious outbreak of under-ground fire stopped operations in the Nandidroog Mine for a time, but work has been resumed and the prospects are promising.

103. As regards other parts of the State, work was stopped in Tumkur and Chitaldrug and some prospecting operations of a not very promising character were carried on in Shimoga and Kadur.

104. The total value of the gold extracted during the year was Rs. 310 lakhs and the royalty realized was nearly Rs. 15½ lakhs.

Manganese.

105. The fall in the price of manganese considerably affected the manganese industry and during the last three months of the year there was no export of ore at all. Fifty-six thousand tons of ore were extracted in 1908-09 as against 75,000 tons in 1907-08; the royalty obtained by Government was Rs. 13,500 as against Rs. 26,000 in the preceding year. There is a prospect of production becoming brisker when the chief mines in the Shimoga district are taken over by the Workington Iron and Steel Company of England.

Chrome.

106. The position of chrome was likewise unsatisfactory. Only 3,000 tons of ore were extracted as against 11,000 in 1907-08. A part of the previous year's produce was also sold and the royalty realized was Rs. 3,500 as against Rs. 600 in the previous year.

Iron.

107. In the Address to you last year, reference was made to certain enquiries started by the State Geologist in regard to the supplies of iron ore available in the State and to certain experiments made by him in the smelting of iron ore and the production of steel. Dr. Smeeth's report is ready and will be published very shortly.

Inspection of Mines.

108. The number of persons employed in the mining industry in 1908 was 32,456 as against 34,641 in 1907. There were 421 accidents, of which 64 were fatal and resulted in the death of 90 persons.

General.

109. The rules issued in 1904 for the grant of licenses and leases have been found to be needlessly stringent in the case of minerals and metals other than gold. The rules have accordingly been revised in the light of the experience gained during the past four or five years. The revised rules will be issued shortly.

110. Another important matter that engaged the attention of Government was the conditions under which prospecting and mining operations could be permitted to be carried on in State and District Forests. After due consideration of the important requirements of forest conservancy on the one hand and of the need for facilitating the extension of mineral industries in the State on the other, a set of rules was issued in June last, which, it is believed, will be found to be satisfactory and acceptable.

111. An area of 1,550 square miles of country in the Hassan and Kolar districts was surveyed by the Geological Department. The tract though of considerable scientific interest was not found to contain any minerals of economic importance.

Water-Supply.

112. An enquiry into the nature and extent of underground supplies of water was started during the year and a large number of observations have been taken in connection with wells and underground mine-workings. This enquiry is with reference to proposals which have been put forward for obtaining larger supplies of water than are now available by means of bore-holes, but as far as at present ascertained, the conditions do not appear to be favourable for any such scheme. Boring may, however, prove of some use for testing the character of the underground water-supply with a view to deepening some of the existing wells in order to secure further supplies for domestic purposes during exceptionally dry seasons.

PUBLIC WORKS.

113. The total expenditure on Public Works during the year was nearly Rs. 41 lakhs from all sources including local funds, of which Rs. 10 lakhs were spent on irrigation works, Rs. 26 lakhs on civil works, and Rs. 4½ lakhs on the Cauvery Power Scheme.

114. Of the principal irrigation works in progress a sum of Rs. 1,37,000 was spent on the completion of the irrigation channels of the Marikanave Project. Water was given up to the 18th mile of the right channel and up to the 16th mile of the left channel. About 6,500 acres of dry and wet lands were under cultivation during the year, the assessment due thereon being Rs. 19,500.

115. The Ramasagara tank in the Kolar district, which was under restoration after its breach in 1903, was almost completed during the year, but a rather bad settlement occurred, as to the causes of which professional opinion is divided. The subject is under investigation pending which further work has been held in abeyance. A sum of Rs. 1,15,000 was spent on the Sowlunga tank in the Shimoga district and the bund and head sluices were constructed. The question of irrigation channels is under consideration.

116. Owing to extraordinary floods in the Cauvery the Krishnaraj Katte anicut breached in May last and attempts were made to close the breach temporarily. During the execution of the work the Offg. Chief Engineer, Captain Dawes, R.E.. lost his life on the 30th July last in heroically attempting to rescue one of the workmen from drowning. The work is being continued and the permanent repair of the anicut will be taken up during the next dry season.

117. Much attention was paid to the restoration of minor tanks in connection with the scarcity that prevailed and an expenditure of Rs. 1,18,000 was incurred on this class of work.

118. Progress was made in opening out and improving some important roads in the malnad parts of the Hassan, Kadur and Shimoga districts.

119. Among works of miscellaneous public improvement carried out during the year were the laying out of extensions at Bangalore and Shimoga, the drainage of the Bangalore City, improvements to the water-supply works of Bangalore and Mysore, and the laying out of new water-supply works for the towns of Harihar and Shimoga.

120. The Third Installation of the Cauvery Power Scheme was practically completed during the year and the full supply of power was given to the mines on the 15th July 1908. The gross revenue realized from the scheme during 1908-09 was Rs. 17½ lakhs and, deducting the working expenses of Rs. 3 lakhs, the net revenue amounted to Rs. 14½ lakhs.

121. Owing to the steady decrease in the volume of water in the Cauvery and Kabbani rivers at the commencement of the last hot weather, it was found necessary to take special steps to conserve the supply of water in the river and control the channels so as to save the sugar-cane crop under them and keep up the supply of water at Sivasamudram for the electric works. A special Public Works Division was formed for the purpose and proved useful up to May, when the heavy and somewhat unusual rains in that month dispelled all anxiety on this account.

RAILWAYS.

122. No new railway construction was undertaken during the year and the length of open lines owned by the State remained the same as before viz., 411 miles.

123. You will be glad to learn that the Government of India has sanctioned the revised project for the Bangalore-Chikballapur Light Railway. The Company has been authorised to raise the necessary capital so as to start work at an early date. There is, however, little doubt that for the prosperity and efficiency of this line it should be connected with the Hosur-Morapur railway on the south and with the Dharmavaram-Pakala line on the north-east.

124. The location or final surveys of the Mysore-Hassan line and the Nanjangud-Erode line have been taken up by the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company and the South Indian Railway Company respectively.

125. The total net revenue to the State from the railways was Rs. 11,36,000 and the total expenditure Rs. 10,54,000, and the percentage of net earnings to capital outlay was 4·65 for the metre gauge lines and 4·79 for the broad gauge line.

126. The contract for the working of the Mysore State lines by the Southern Mahratta Railway Company having terminated, a new contract taking effect from the 1st July 1908 has been entered into with the new Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company by the Secretary of State for India acting on behalf of the Durbar. Under this revised contract the Railway Company receives a remuneration of one-twentieth of the net earnings of all the lines as against one-fourth of the net earnings of the Mysore-Harihar line and nothing for the branch lines under the old contract. This change is expected to be beneficial to the State revenue.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

127. There was an increase of 5 per cent in civil litigation, chiefly in the Bangalore Division, and there was also a rise in the number of offences reported and persons brought to trial, the percentages of increase being 8¼ and 10½ respectively. The variations are chiefly attributable to the distress that prevailed during the greater part of the year.

Benches of Magistrates.

128. In response to the representations made in the Assembly from time to time for the constitution of Benches of Honorary Magistrates, Government passed orders in April last for the appointment of such Benches in Bangalore and Mysore as a tentative measure. The scheme has just come into working order.

POLICE.

129. The sanctioned strength of the Regular Police at the end of the year was 855 officers and 5,090 men, i.e., 33 officers and 29 men less than last year. The cost of the Police Department was Rs. 9,55,000 giving an average of Rs. 175·23 per 1,000 of population. The Village Police performed their work on the whole satisfactorily.

130. One incident of note in the year under report was the capture of several dangerous gangs of criminals known as Pamlores, who had been for some years past carrying on their depredations unchecked in the bordering British districts of the Bombay and Madras Presidencies and also in the northern districts of Mysore. They belonged to gangs whose registered head-quarters were in the Kadur,

Hassan and Shimoga districts, and were apparently unnoticed, if not actually harboured, by the patels of some villages. In October 1908 thirty-eight of them were captured with stolen property worth more than Rs. 5,300. These were tried in the Sessions Court of Dharwar on various charges of dacoity, and twenty-five were convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for seven years each. The organization and strategy which facilitated this capture reflect great credit on the Inspector-General of Police, Mr. Dalavai Devaraj Urs.

131. The total number of cognizable cases reported during the year was about 18 per cent larger than in 1907-08, the increase being chiefly in minor offences against property. The largest increase was in the districts of Tumkur, Kolar and Bangalore. The percentage of convictions to cases decided was 75 as against 64 in 1907-08 and the percentage of convictions to the number of arrests was slightly higher than in the preceding year. In the recovery of stolen property there was a very marked improvement.

132. Besides the gang of criminals captured in October 1908, other criminal gangs were vigilantly watched during the period. The talaris and totis employed to watch road-ookads rendered very useful service during the period of drought and scarcity. To these precautionary measures may be attributed in some degree the fact that, notwithstanding the scarcity which prevailed, the increase in crime was less than might have been expected.

133. Among administrative measures to improve the efficiency of the Police Department was the introduction of the Investigation Centre Scheme into the Bangalore and Mysore districts. Only the cities of Bangalore and Mysore remain to be dealt with under the scheme, and the subject is engaging the attention of the Government. A Criminal Investigation Department has also been recently formed for dealing with serious organized crime.

The Military Department.

134. The military forces of the State continued to be maintained in a high state of efficiency.

MEDICAL.

135. There were 149 hospitals and dispensaries in the State. The patients treated in them numbered a million and a quarter. The number of in-patients was nearly 12,000. The Maternity Hospitals at Bangalore and Mysore continued to be useful and popular and dealt with 25,000 patients, of whom 1,500 were in-patients. There were 110 midwives at work and they attended to 6,700 cases. Nine thousand five hundred persons were treated in the Eye Infirmary at Bangalore. It has been decided to erect a suitable Eye Hospital to meet the growing requirements of this branch of medicine.

136. There were 26 Hindu vaidyasalas and Unani dispensaries in existence and the total number of patients treated in them was 213,234, of whom 107,078 were men, 51,174 were women, and 54,982 were children. These hospitals seem to be as much resorted to as the institutions dispensing Western medicine. The Ayurvedic College, referred to in the last year's Address was opened on the 1st January 1909 with 10 students and promises to work well.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

137. Vital statistics show a satisfactory improvement. The birth-rate was higher, viz., 20·31 per mille in 1908-09 as against 14·98 in 1907-08 and the death-rate was lower, viz., 16·26 per mille as against 18·82 in the previous year. Fevers and cholera claimed fewer victims, while plague, though it prevailed in all the districts, was very much milder than in the preceding year.

138. The very considerable fall in the number of plague cases was, partly at any rate, due to the increased attention paid to inoculation and rat destruction throughout the State, in addition to the usual measures of evacuation and disinfection. The number of rats destroyed was 225,000. Inoculation was encouraged in Bangalore, Mysore and Kolar by the payment of a small fee to poor persons as a compensation for loss of wages for a few days. To fight the recent outbreak of plague in this city a vigorous campaign of inoculation has been organised and nearly 20,000 persons or about one-third of the population of the city have been inoculated up to date. This reflects great credit on the local officers and the private gentlemen who so readily came forward to popularise the measure.

139. Over 100,000 persons were vaccinated during the year, showing an increase of nearly 25 per cent over those of the previous year. The Kurnool system of vaccination has worked very satisfactorily and is largely responsible for the good results obtained. Vaccination was compulsory in Bangalore, Mysore and the Kolar Gold Fields. Government have under consideration the question of making it compulsory in other selected parts of the State. To ensure the quality of the lymph, the Chemical Examiner and Bacteriologist to Government examines samples of the lymph, and certifies to its purity before any supply is issued for use.

140. A Health Exhibition was again held in Mysore during the last Dasara, when many interesting exhibits were on view. A similar Exhibition is now in progress and it is also intended to form a permanent Health Museum.

Government Gardens.

141. The Government gardens, and particularly the Lal-bagh, have been considerably improved both with a view to decorative effect and to educational value. New nurseries were prepared and all locally available horticultural seeds were collected. Plans and estimates have been prepared for a horticultural and agricultural seed-depôt and its construction will be taken up early. Several experiments were made with new plants. It is intended to make special experiments in the cultivation of fruit trees, and an experimental station will be opened in the bed of the Sunnakal tank which has to be breached in connection with the drainage of the Bangalore City. Over 1,000 fruit trees have been received from Australia and a large number from other countries, and these will be tried in the new station.

The Government Museum.

142. The Government Museum at Bangalore continued to be very popular and was visited by 275,000 persons. The Natural History section was largely added to and the Economic section was also improved.

The Meteorological Department.

143. There is little to record about the work of the Meteorological Department except that it was conducted with the usual regularity and accuracy.

The Government Press and Stationery Departments.

144. The same might be said of the Government Press and Stationery Departments also. In the Stationery department, English made papers and stationery of the value of Rs. 27,000 and Indian made paper of the value of Rs. 58,000 were used, against Rs. 27,000 and Rs. 69,000 respectively during the previous year.

DISTRICT FUNDS.

145. An important step taken during the year was the grant to the District Boards of a voice in the administration of the Irrigation Cess Fund. Under the previous system, the expenditure of the Fund was almost entirely in the hands of the Public Works Department and there was no opportunity for any expression of local opinion as to the urgency or otherwise of a proposed work, with the result that local interests and requirements were not sufficiently considered. It was therefore ruled that Taluk Boards should draw up in the form of a budget an annual programme of local works to be undertaken during the year, that District Boards should scrutinize these and make up a district budget and that the Revenue Commissioner should consolidate these budgets, consider them in consultation with the Chief Engineer and submit them for the orders of Government. The system will, it is hoped, tend to a satisfactory administration of the Irrigation Cess

Fund and to a judicious application of it to local irrigational purposes, while the actual execution of the works will, as heretofore, devolve on the professional staff of the Public Works Department.

UNICIPAL BOARDS.

146. At the end of the year, in addition to the City Municipalities of Bangalore and Mysore, 20 local areas had been declared as municipalities working under the Municipal Regulation of 1906. For these municipalities, rules were framed to regulate the number of Councillors, and it was laid down that one-third of the number should be elected by the citizens and one-third nominated by the Government, and that the remaining one-third should consist of ex-officio members. Assistant Commissioners in charge of Revenue Sub-divisions were appointed Presidents of Municipalities in their Sub-divisions at places other than district head-quarters. For the more efficient carrying on of sanitary work, the Health Officers at Bangalore and Mysore were appointed Vice-Presidents of the Municipal Councils in matters relating to Public Health.

147. A committee was appointed to draw up a scheme for the improvement of the Bangalore City and the Municipal Council has taken up a project to construct sanitary huts for the sweepers employed by that body.

148. There is a proposal to form a company in the town of Davangere for generating electrical power for lighting and industrial purposes, and the Municipal Council has been permitted to take shares worth Rs. 5,000 in the concern.

149. The long-standing question of the improvement of the town of Shimoga reached a practical solution during the year, and projects for the extension of the town and for water-supply were sanctioned at a cost of Rs. 1,32,000, of which about a lakh will be borne by Government. The balance, (i.e.) a moiety of the cost of the water-supply, will be a loan to the municipality repayable in 20 years with interest at 4 per cent per annum. As soon as these projects are completed, that of improving the drainage will be taken up.

150. The Harihar water-works and the electrification of the Mysore City water-works were completed during the year. A project for the supply of water to the town of Mudgere has also been sanctioned.

The Mysore City Improvements.

151. The number of members on the Mysore City Improvement Trust Board was increased from 8 to 9. The Health Officer of the Mysore City Municipality and the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner to Government have been appointed ex-officio trustees. Section 20 of the Regulation was amended so as to empower the Board of Trustees to exercise certain powers of the Municipal Council in regard to streets, drains, privies, sewers, the service of notices, the execution of works and the recovery of expenses under the regulation.

152. The following new projects were sanctioned during the year:—

	Rs.
(i) Sanitary Improvements of the Fort	6,12,620
(ii) Improving the flood water drain in No. III Drainage area	3,703
(iii) Arching over Col. Purchase's drain and filling it up to ground level	6,990
(iv) Drainage and other works of the Lakshmipuram Extension	17,133
(v) Countergrading a portion of Purnaiya's nala	4,078

153. All the above works were put in hand during the year and under the first of these, an expenditure of Rs. 1,07,089 was incurred in acquiring 84 properties, out of 360 to be acquired. As an experimental measure, 14 rat-proof houses of armoured hollow cement concrete blocks were constructed in the Chetnahalli extension at a cost of Rs. 525 each. The expenditure incurred by the Board during the year on the various improvements amounted to Rs. 2,44,823. The total amount spent by the Board up to the end of June 1909 is Rs. 20,68,182.

MUZRAI.

154. During the year a sum of Rs. 33,000 was spent on the repair of 94 Muzrai institutions, of which a sum of Rs. 15,000 was contributed by Government and the balance came from the funds of the institutions concerned.

155. The appointment of a Muzrai Superintendent was alluded to in the last year's Address. During the year, this officer inspected the important institutions in the Mysore, Hassan and Bangalore districts.

The Archæological Department.

156. The officer in charge of the Archæological Department inspected several buildings of historical and archæological interest and discovered a large number of new inscriptions. In October last, excavations were conducted on the site of the ancient town of Chandravalli near Chitaldrug and various interesting articles were found, among which were coins of the Andhra period (2nd century B.C. to 5th century A.D.) and of the Roman Emperor Augustus (31 B.C. to 14 A.D).

157. Among the manuscripts obtained was the Loka Vibhaga, a Jaina work of the 5th century A.D., which is of special interest as fixing 437 A.D. as the year when the Pallava king Simhavarma came to the throne.

158. Recently, a short connected account of the various dynasties referred to in the inscriptions collected in the volumes of the Epigraphia Carnatica has been prepared by Mr. Rice, the late Director of Archæological Researches, and has been published by Government. The book is designated "Mysore and Coorg from the Inscriptions."

EDUCATION.

159. The year 1908-09 was one of very satisfactory progress in the Educational Department. Forty-three Government institutions were newly opened during the year, while 42 institutions, chiefly unaided, ceased to exist. There was also a large increase in the number of private institutions, i.e., institutions not conforming to the departmental standards. In all, the total number of institutions rose from 4,146 to 4,310, and their strength from 123,000 to 139,000 pupils. The percentage of boys at school to those of school-age rose from 25·2 to 28·4, and that of girls from 4·72 to 5·3. This marked improvement in attendance has principally occurred in Anglo-Vernacular and Vernacular Middle and Primary Schools for boys, and is attributed chiefly to the measures adopted during the year for the abolition of fees in the Middle School classes of all Village Elementary Schools, and in the primary classes of all Anglo-Vernacular and Vernacular Schools of the department, and for the introduction of compulsory English education into all Anglo-Vernacular Schools from the III Class upwards.

160. Female education made good progress; the number of institutions rose from 259 to 272, and the strength of pupils from 19,000 to 21,400. A lady teacher of the Maharani's College took her B.A. degree during the year, being the third to pass out of the College in this way, and a lady student passed the Pandit's Examination in Sanskrit.

161. The increase of the pay of village school masters to a minimum of Rs. 10 referred to in the last year's Address came into full effect during the year under review.

162. In connection with the re-organisation of the Colleges to suit the requirements of the new regulations of the University, the necessary additional accommodation has been provided at Mysore, and an additional Professor of English has been recently appointed. A grant has been sanctioned for the improvement of the library. In the Central College, the new Professor of Physics joined duty in November 1908, and the necessary arrangements have been made for the teaching of Geology, Botany and Zoology. Special grants have been made for laboratory equipment and for the improvement of the library, and a block of buildings for the Physics laboratory is under construction. The High School department was separated from the College department, and placed under a tried and efficient headmaster. It is intended to erect a suitable building for the High School and a good site has been selected for the purpose.

163. The provision of suitable school buildings in rural parts has engaged the attention of Government, and a grant of Rs. 54,000 was made in 1908-09 for the purpose. A similar special grant of Rs. 50,000 has been repeated this year.

164. Another important event of the year was the introduction of moral and religious teaching in Government schools. A departmental conference was held to draw up curricula for this teaching, and suitable text-books and other necessary adjuncts were selected and prescribed. The scheme is, however, in a tentative stage and its progress and results are being watched.

Manual Instruction.

165. Sloyd centres were opened in connection with 9 out of the 10 High Schools in the State and placed under the charge of teachers trained by Dr. Larsson. They have been equipped with 180 benches for the teaching of 1,260 boys. Everywhere the pupils have taken to sloyd with great enthusiasm and the models and drawings prepared by them have been pronounced to be very neat and in some cases excellent. During the latter part of the year 12 centres for cardboard work were also started.

Kindergarten. Instruction.

166. During the year about 260 teachers were trained in Kindergarten methods.

Technical and Industrial Education.

167. The number of Industrial Schools increased from 19 to 20 and their strength from 888 to 1,198. All the schools, and the Mysore school in particular, did good work during the year. Much useful work was done on the demonstration farm attached to the Mysore Normal School and a large number of teachers of Elementary Schools were there trained in simple practical Agriculture.

Sericulture

168. The scheme started in 1906 of training a few village schoolmasters in sericulture in the Tata's Silk Farm at Bangalore and employing them in touring in the interior explaining to the villagers the modern methods of sericulture did not prove a success. These teachers were then reverted to the Education Department and required to impart instruction out of school hours to the sons of sericulturists, in the hope that the youngsters would take to advanced methods more kindly than their conservative elders. This system also has not worked satisfactorily. Other arrangements are under consideration for making use of the Silk Farm for the improvement of sericulture.

Oriental Library.

169. Manuscripts of rare works such as the Jaiminiya Upanishad and the Talavakara Upanishad were obtained for the Oriental Library, and the Chanikya Arthasastra and Taittiriya Brahmana, Vol. I, were published during the year.

Damodar Das Scholarships.

170. During the last year four Damodar Das scholarships were awarded, two for the study of mining and metallurgy, one for Electrical Engineering and one for Medicine. This year one scholarship has been awarded for Electrical Engineering, and two officers of the State service have been given these scholarships supplemented by State grants for the study of Agriculture and Agricultural Chemistry respectively. A special scholarship has also, as already stated, been awarded for the study of Economics with special reference to Co-operative Credit.

Educational Museum and Exhibition.

171. Instead of holding an exhibition for a short time during the Dasara, orders have been passed to open a permanent museum of educational exhibits in Bangalore. It is proposed to locate this temporarily in the Sheshadri Memorial Hall pending the construction of a permanent building in the premises of the new High School.

The Indian Institute of Science.

172. The construction of the buildings for the Indian Institute of Science has been commenced. The constitution of the governing bodies of the Institute has been recently laid down by the Government of India. The arrangements give the State a due share in the administration of the institution.

THE VISIT OF HIS EXCELLENCY THE VICEROY.

173. As I commenced this Address bycongratulating you on a bounty of nature, so it is a pleasure to me to conclude it by felicitating you on a political event of no little interest and importance that is soon to happen. It is a visit from the Viceroy and Governor-General of India. His Excellency Lord Minto has been pleased to accept His Highness the Maharaja's invitation to visit Mysore as His Highness' guest. His Highness feels sure that all classes of his subjects will join him in according a hearty welcome to the august representative of that mighty Power which is the great guardian of peace and order in India, and to which the people of Mysore are bound by the sacred bonds of loyalty and gratitude.

The following extract from the resume of Professor Koch, regarding his views on the prevention of plague, is hereby published for general information.

K. MYLAR RAO,

Professor Koch's views on the prevention of Plague.

* * * *

"The rat is the chief agent in the diffusion of plague, and our preventive measures must be based on this principle. The encouragement of the destruction of rats, as early practiced in Japan, is an eminently proper procedure, but in the extermination of animals of such great reproductive power the use of artificial methods, like mechanical devices and poisonous drugs, must prove laborious, expensive, and at the same time comparatively inefficient. On the other hand, in the natural world, the mutual relations of living things is extremely intricate and subtle, and by paying attention to this point we may discover natural methods of dealing with this problem, the limited powers of man being far inferior to the boundless resources of nature.

"Permit me to cite two or three instances of the very successful utilization of the natural correlation between living beings which may, by analogy, serve to illustrate the proper means to be employed in the work of demurization. Some years ago an amateur botanist admiring its pretty flowers introduced a verbenaceous plant called lantana from America into the Hawaiian Islands. Through the agency of birds its seeds were distributed broadcast. It soon became disseminated throughout the entire group of islands as a harmful weed to the great detriment of agriculture. In its native land, Mexico, this plant does not flourish to the same disastrous extent. At the end of a careful investigation it was discovered that there exists in Mexico a species of small fly called Agromyza, which deposits its eggs within the seeds of the lantana and thus checks increase of the plant. The fly was introduced into Hawaii and propagated, with the result that in a few years the omnipresent lantana pest showed signs of diminution.

"Another remarkable example is found in the Perkinsiella Saccharicida, a species of leaf-hopper injurious to the sugar-cane in the Hawaiian Islands. This insect is parasitic on the stalk and leaves of the sugar-cane, extracting the juice, and is a source of such great damage that in the period of four years, between 1901 and 1904, the amount of loss occasioned by it reached the enormous sum of several million dollars. On this account the Sugar Planters' Association established an experiment station, and despatched specialists to distant parts of the world for the purpose of investigating methods for the destruction of injurious insects and of searching for an enemy of this insect. Thus there was discovered in Australia a species of ant-like animal named aphanomerus pusillus parasitic within the egg mass of the leaf hopper. This beneficial insect was introduced into Hawaii in the year 1904, and propagated with the result that the great insect pest of the sugar-cane, Perkinsiella, has shown a remarkable diminution, and no longer causes the damage of former years. These two instances prove how beneficial to human activity is the study of the mutual interdependence between living beings in the realm of nature.

"Again, in Japan, we find that as a consequence of increasing interest in fruit culture foreign apple trees have been imported from America and assiduously cultivated. Nevertheless through the ravages of the woolly APHIS, which was introduced at the same time, I learn that at present throughout the Tohoku District scarcely a single healthy fruit tree can be found. This condition of affairs is clearly due to an imperfect knowledge of the inter-relation existing in the natural world.

"Successful demurization must be based on this principle, namely, the seeking out and the utilization of the natural enemies of the rat. From an early date I have been carrying on researches regarding the enemies of rats, and have used in my experiments a number of voracious animals, among them the ichneumon of Egypt, the mongoose of India, as well as the common European ferret. As well as devouring rats these animals attack domestic poultry, so that their beneficial effects are off-set by the loss they occasion, and their practical value is nil. On the other hand, from ancient times, cats have been the most common and best known to man of the enemies of the rat. When properly trained, they do us no harm, and are in all respects most fitted for the task before us. Though these facts are familiar to every one, they have not yet been practically utilized in the prophylaxis of plague. Random researches in distant lands will not necessarily lead to the successful accomplishment of our object. The most useful things are rather to be found among the commonplace and the readily accessible, as in this instance.

"However, in employing cats for this purpose we should determine a certain system, and follow it out in an orderly manner, in the main as follows :—

"1. Pass laws requiring each house to keep a certain number of cats and cause the police to make frequent inspections.

"2. By establishing a system of prizes, seek for cats of approved ability as ratters.

"3. Carry on a world-wide search for strains of cats especially skilled as ratters and encourage their introduction and propagation.

"4. We should stimulate interest in the breeding of improved strain of cats by promoting cat shows, etc., just as in the case of horses and cattle.

"5. Vessels plying between plague-infected ports should be obliged to carry a fixed number of cats, the number depending upon the tonnage of the vessels.

"6. Building regulations should require that attics and other places frequented by rats be provided with opening large enough to admit cats.

"7. In the case of plague-infected districts or areas threatened with invasion by plague, special companies of cats should be organized and at fixed intervals they should be isolated and the presence or absence of plague among them should be determined.

"The above is merely a sketch in rough detail of a scheme for employing cats in antipest work. The method is extremely easy of execution and by no means involves great expense. Further, as its efficacy is not merely of temporary duration, we should eventually accomplish our object of exterminating the rat. Moreover, during the time of a plague epidemic, the trouble involved in rat examinations should be lessened. If from time to time we isolate and keep under observation the cats that have been feeding upon rats, not only do we obviate any fear of spreading the infection, but at the same time we have a means of determining the exact extent of the spread of the disease.

"Since a multitude of artificial devices of human contrivances are not equal in efficiency to one of nature's methods in destroying rats, during antipest compaigns, the most efficacious means of accomplishing our object is the utilization of the cat."

No. 4391—San. 76-09-3, dated 24*th November* 1909.

The following extract from the resume of Professor Koch, regarding his views on the prevention of plague, is hereby published for general information.

K. MYLAR RAO,

Professor Koch's views on the prevention of Plague.

* * * *

"The rat is the chief agent in the diffusion of plague, and our preventive measures must be based on this principle. The encouragement of the destruction of rats, as early practiced in Japan, is an eminently proper procedure, but in the extermination of animals of such great reproductive power the use of artificial methods, like mechanical devices and poisonous drugs, must prove laborious, expensive, and at the same time comparatively inefficient. On the other hand, in the natural world, the mutual relations of living things is extremely intricate and subtle, and by paying attention to this point we may discover natural methods of dealing with this problem, the limited powers of man being far inferior to the boundless resources of nature.

"Permit me to cite two or three instances of the very successful utilization of the natural correlation between living beings which may, by analogy, serve to illustrate the proper means to be employed in the work of demurization. Some years ago an amateur botanist admiring its pretty flowers introduced a verbenaceous plant called lantana from America into the Hawaiian Islands. Through the agency of birds its seeds were distributed broadcast. It soon became disseminated throughout the entire group of islands as a harmful weed to the great detriment of agriculture. In its native land, Mexico, this plant does not flourish to the same disastrous extent. At the end of a careful investigation it was discovered that there exists in Mexico a species of small fly called Agromyza, which deposits its eggs within the seeds of the lantana and thus checks increase of the plant. The fly was introduced into Hawaii and propagated, with the result that in a few years the omnipresent lantana pest showed signs of diminution.

"Another remarkable example is found in the Perkinsiella Saccharicida, a species of leaf-hopper injurious to the sugar-cane in the Hawaiian Islands. This insect is parasitic on the stalk and leaves of the sugar-cane, extracting the juice, and is a source of such great damage that in the period of four years, between 1901 and 1904, the amount of loss occasioned by it reached the enormous sum of several million dollars. On this account the Sugar Planters' Association established an experiment station, and despatched specialists to distant parts of the world for the purpose of investigating methods for the destruction of injurious insects and of searching for an enemy of this insect. Thus there was discovered in Australia a species of ant-like animal named aphanomerus pusillus parasitic within the egg mass of the leaf hopper. This beneficial insect was introduced into Hawaii in the year 1904, and propagated with the result that the great insect pest of the sugar-cane, Perkinsiella, has shown a remarkable diminution, and no longer causes the damage of former years. These two instances prove how beneficial to human activity is the study of the mutual interdependence between living beings in the realm of nature.

"Again, in Japan, we find that as a consequence of increasing interest in fruit culture foreign apple trees have been imported from America and assiduously cultivated. Nevertheless through the ravages of the woolly APHIS, which was introduced at the same time, I learn that at present throughout the Tohoku District scarcely a single healthy fruit tree can be found. This condition of affairs is clearly due to an imperfect knowledge of the inter-relation existing in the natural world.

"Successful demurization must be based on this principle, namely, the seeking out and the utilization of the natural enemies of the rat. From an early date I have been carrying on researches regarding the enemies of rats, and have used in my experiments a number of voracious animals, among them the ichneumon of Egypt, the mongoose of India, as well as the common European ferret. As well as devouring rats these animals attack domestic poultry, so that their beneficial effects are off-set by the loss they occasion, and their practical value is nil. On the other hand, from ancient times, cats have been the most common and best known to man of the enemies of the rat. When properly trained, they do us no harm, and are in all respects most fitted for the task before us. Though these facts are familiar to every one, they have not yet been practically utilized in the prophylaxis of plague. Random researches in distant lands will not necessarily lead to the successful accomplishment of our object. The most useful things are rather to be found among the commonplace and the readily accessible, as in this instance.

"However, in employing cats for this purpose we should determine a certain system, and follow it out in an orderly manner, in the main as follows :—

"1. Pass laws requiring each house to keep a certain number of cats and cause the police to make frequent inspections.

"2. By establishing a system of prizes, seek for cats of approved ability as ratters.

"3. Carry on a world-wide search for strains of cats especially skilled as ratters and encourage their introduction and propagation.

"4. We should stimulate interest in the breeding of improved strain of cats by promoting cat shows, etc., just as in the case of horses and cattle.

"5. Vessels plying between plague-infected ports should be obliged to carry a fixed number of cats, the number depending upon the tonnage of the vessels.

"6. Building regulations should require that attics and other places frequented by rats be provided with opening large enough to admit cats.

"7. In the case of plague-infected districts or areas threatened with invasion by plague, special companies of cats should be organized and at fixed intervals they should be isolated and the presence or absence of plague among them should be determined.

"The above is merely a sketch in rough detail of a scheme for employing cats in antipest work. The method is extremely easy of execution and by no means involves great expense. Further, as its efficacy is not merely of temporary duration, we should eventually accomplish our object of exterminating the rat. Moreover, during the time of a plague epidemic, the trouble involved in rat examinations should be lessened. If from time to time we isolate and keep under observation the cats that have been feeding upon rats, not only do we obviate any fear of spreading the infection, but at the same time we have a means of determining the exact extent of the spread of the disease.

"Since a multitude of artificial devices of human contrivances are not equal in efficiency to one of nature's methods in destroying rats, during antipest campaigns, the most efficacious means of accomplishing our object is the utilization of the cat."

The following extract from the resume of Professor Koch, regarding his views on the prevention of plague, is hereby published for general information.

By Order,
K. MYLAR RAO,
For Secy. to Govt.

Professor Koch's views on the prevention of Plague.

"The rat is the chief agent in the diffusion of plague, and our preventive measures must be based on this principle. The encouragement of the destruction of rats, as early practiced in Japan, is an eminently proper procedure, but in the extermination of animals of such great reproductive power the use of artificial methods, like mechanical devices and poisonous drugs, must prove laborious, expensive, and at the same time comparatively inefficient. On the other hand, in the natural world, the mutual relations of living things is extremely intricate and subtle, and by paying attention to this point we may discover natural methods of dealing with this problem, the limited powers of man being far inferior to the boundless resources of nature.

"Permit me to cite two or three instances of the very successful utilization of the natural correlation between living beings which may, by analogy, serve to illustrate the proper means to be employed in the work of demurization. Some years ago an amateur botanist admiring its pretty flowers introduced a verbenaceous plant called lantana from America into the Hawaiian Islands. Through the agency of birds its seeds were distributed broadcast. It soon became disseminated throughout the entire group of islands as a harmful weed to the great detriment of agriculture. In its native land, Mexico, this plant does not flourish to the same disastrous extent. At the end of a careful investigation it was discovered that there exists in Mexico a species of small fly called Agromyza, which deposits its eggs within the seeds of the lantana and thus checks increase of the plant. The fly was introduced into Hawaii and propagated, with the result that in a few years the omnipresent lantana pest showed signs of diminution.

"Another remarkable example is found in the Perkinsiella Saccharicida, a species of leaf-hopper injurious to the sugar-cane in the Hawaiian Islands. This insect is parasitic on the stalk and leaves of the sugar-cane, extracting the juice, and is a source of such great damage that in the period of four years, between 1901 and 1904, the amount of loss occasioned by it reached the enormous sum of several million dollars. On this account the Sugar Planters' Association established an experiment station, and despatched specialists to distant parts of the world for the purpose of investigating methods for the destruction of injurious insects and of searching for an enemy of this insect. Thus there was discovered in Australia a species of ant-like animal named aphanomerus pusillus parasitic within the egg mass of the leaf hopper. This beneficial insect was introduced into Hawaii in the year 1904, and propagated with the result that the great insect pest of the sugar-cane, Perkinsiella, has shown a remarkable diminution, and no longer causes the damage of former years. These two instances prove how beneficial to human activity is the study of the mutual interdependence between living beings in the realm of nature.

"Again, in Japan, we find that as a consequence of increasing interest in fruit culture foreign apple trees have been imported from America and assiduously cultivated. Nevertheless through the ravages of the woolly APHIS, which was introduced at the same time, I learn that at present throughout the Tohoku District scarcely a single healthy fruit tree can be found. This condition of affairs is clearly due to an imperfect knowledge of the inter-relation existing in the natural world.

"Successful demurization must be based on this principle, namely, the seeking out and the utilization of the natural enemies of the rat. From an early date I have been carrying on researches regarding the enemies of rats, and have used in my experiments a number of voracious animals, among them the ichneumon of Egypt, the mongoose of India, as well as the common European ferret. As well as devouring rats these animals attack domestic poultry, so that their beneficial effects are off-set by the loss they occasion, and their practical value is nil. On the other hand, from ancient times, cats have been the most common and best known to man of the enemies of the rat. When properly trained, they do us no harm, and are in all respects most fitted for the task before us. Though these facts are familiar to every one, they have not yet been practically utilized in the prophylaxis of plague. Random researches in distant lands will not necessarily lead to the successful accomplishment of our object. The most useful things are rather to be found among the commonplace and the readily accessible, as in this instance.

"However, in employing cats for this purpose we should determine a certain system, and ollow it out in an orderly manner, in the main as follows :—

"1. Pass laws requiring each house to keep a certain number of cats and cause the police to make frequent inspections.

"2. By establishing a system of prizes, seek for cats of approved ability as ratters.

"3. Carry on a world-wide search for strains of cats especially skilled as ratters and encourage their introduction and propagation.

"4. We should stimulate interest in the breeding of improved strain of cats by promoting cat shows, etc., just as in the case of horses and cattle.

"5. Vessels plying between plague-infected ports should be obliged to carry a fixed number of cats, the number depending upon the tonnage of the vessels.

"6. Building regulations should require that attics and other places frequented by rats be provided with opening large enough to admit cats.

"7. In the case of plague-infected districts or areas threatened with invasion by plague, special companies of cats should be organized and at fixed intervals they should be isolated and the presence or absence of plague among them should be determined.

"The above is merely a sketch in rough detail of a scheme for employing cats in antipest work. The method is extremely easy of execution and by no means involves great expense. Further, as its efficacy is not merely of temporary duration, we should eventually accomplish our object of exterminating the rat. Moreover, during the time of a plague epidemic, the trouble involved in rat examinations should be lessened. If from time to time we isolate and keep under observation the cats that have been feeding upon rats, not only do we obviate any fear of spreading the infection, but at the same time we have a means of determining the exact extent of the spread of the disease.

"Since a multitude of artificial devices of human contrivances are not equal in efficiency to one of nature's methods in destroying rats, during antipest campaigns, the most efficacious means of accomplishing our object is the utilization of the cat."
